Chamber Opens Riverfront Work

Shower Seen As Threat To Area Holiday

But State Forecast Hedges On Rain As Celebration Opens

The Ohio weatherman reached into his little black bag Wednesday night and came up with an unexpected threat of afternoon rain that he said may dampen the state's July 4th celebration.

But Tri-State area residents, primed for the biggest hot weather holiday of the year, crossed their fingers and went ahead with plans for the celebration, regardless.

The forecaster's threat hedged on the question of rain. His prediction did not appear firm enough to cause any general cancellation of holiday plans.

But it said plainly there is a chance of rain this afternoon. Otherwise, the temperature should be in the 70's — the same range it maintained Wednesday after showers drove the mercury down from previous highs in the 90's.

Temperatures throughout Ohio stood around 70 yesterday, a decline of about 20 degrees from the previous highs.

East Liverpool was typical, with readings in the low 70's. Cleveland had 68, Cincinnati registered 81, Marietta had 78 and both Columbus and Zanesville reported 75.

Parks and pools throughout the district are expected to be crowded today as the celebration reaches its height.

Many district residents will converge on Midland for an all-day program highlighted by a mammoth parade this morning and a fireworks display tonight.

Many other events are planned (Turn to WEATHER, Page 3)

Bradshaw Ave. Blaze Blamed On Soldering

Sparks from a soldering iron were blamed for a fire in the upstairs of the home of Olav Walderhaug, 832 Bradshaw Ave., Wednesday afternoon at 2:16, city firemen reported.

Firemen said a plumber was soldering pipes in a remodeling project when a spark apparently ignited cardboard on a wall, and the flames spread to the rafters in the attic.

The fire was partially extinguished by the plumber after the rafters had been charred. Firemen broke two holes through the roof of the dwelling to get at the flames. Six firemen and two trucks responded to the alarm.

To His Europe Plan

DeGaulle Hopes For Bonn's Aid

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle takes off for Bonn today in an effort to swing West Germany around to his design for Europe on the basis of the new French-German cooperation treaty.

The chances seem against him, but this is hardly likely to deter the stubborn and mystic French leader.

The occasion for De Gaulle's two-day visit to Bonn is the official inauguration of the Paris-Bonn pact, which calls for close and continuing consultation on foreign, economic and defense policies.

De Gaulle's more immediate aim is to counteract the impact of President Kennedy's triumphal visit to West Germany last week.

To this end De Gaulle, 72, is concentrating on the German leadership and avoiding any popularity contest with the energetic Kennedy, 46. His program does not go to West Berlin.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer joined Kennedy in issuing a communique which appeared to adopt American views on European unification, trade policies and Allied defense under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. De Gaulle wants to use the French-German treaty as a lever to pry the West Germans over to the French viewpoint.

De Gaulle will confer with Adenauer in the first of the semi-annual French-German summit meetings called for by the treaty. He will be accompanied by Premier Georges Pompidou, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing, Defense Minister Pierre Messmer, Education Minister Christian Fouchet and officials.

This probably will be the last official meeting between De Gaulle and Adenauer, 87. The West German leader plans to retire this fall, turning the reins of government over to Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

The treaty provides for frequent meetings between officials of the two governments aiming at similar or parallel action within NATO, the Common Market and other organizations.

On the basis of their public statements to date, both Erhard and Schroeder oppose De Gaulle on several key points.

The Gaullist concept of Europe is a Continental bloc—the six Common Market nations—with its own political, economic and military structure, dominated by the French-German partnership with Paris in the role of senior partner.

As for defense, De Gaulle envisages an eventual European nuclear force, controlled by a European political agency. Since France is the only country of the six with its own nuclear potential, this European force would clearly be a vehicle for French primacy.

De Gaulle will also meet with the Associated Press.

The consensus:

1. There will be no letup in Negro pressure for equality.
2. Violence and martyrdom are not sought but civil strife will not deter Negroes.
3. Complete desegregation will come sooner than anyone has predicted.
4. The ultimate aim of school desegregation is racial balance in all schools, south as well as north.

Robert W. Saunders of Tampa, Fla., said the drive to end racial imbalance in Northern schools resembled their problems in a round-

Burns Claim Trucker, 46, After Crash

Gas Tank Ruptures After Sideswiping Near Columbiana

Severe burns over 75 per cent of his body claimed the life of a 46-year-old Akron trucker Wednesday afternoon — less than 12 hours after his rig sideswiped another truck on Route 14 near Columbiana and burst into flames.

Frank Myers, a driver for the Deluca Distributing Co. of Akron, died at Salem City Hospital at 4:05 as a result of extensive second and third degree burns over most of his body.

The trucker was the 13th traffic fatality in Columbiana County this year, compared to 17 at this time in 1962.

Myers was headed east about 5:28 a.m. yesterday when his truck sideswiped an oncoming tractor-trailer operated by Robert Myers.

Band Concert On Barge Set For 2 Sunday

The pleasant sounds of music drifting across the Ohio River are scheduled for area residents in a barge concert planned Sunday afternoon at the Broadway Wharf.

The 50-member East Liverpool Concert Band, comprised of members of American Federation of Musicians Local 172, will present the program under the direction of Vincent Maola.

A barge for the concert to be held from 2 to 4 p.m. has been made available by the Keystone Division of the Dravo Corp., according to Eric (Scotty) Young of the musicians local.

The program has been arranged jointly by the civic and community affairs committees of the Chamber of Commerce, the musicians local and the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners, which now administers the riverfront area.

One of a series of projects related to developing the riverfront recreation potential in East Liverpool, the concert recalls the city's heritage as a longtime Ohio River Valley center.

Another concert is scheduled July 14 at the wharf. The professional musicians are paid from the Music Performance Trust Fund, which is built up from royalties paid to the AFM from phonograph record sales throughout the nation.

Proposals Studied Khrushchev Offer Seen Unacceptable By U.S. Officials

President, Chief Aides Study Plan

Package Calls For Limited Test Ban, Nonaggression Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will probably regard as unacceptable a Russian package deal for a limited nuclear test ban and a NATO-Warsaw alliance nonaggression pact, U.S. officials said Wednesday night.

This reaction to Premier Khrushchev's new proposal was given to newsmen following two meetings by President Kennedy with top advisers and State Department consultations with envoys from Britain, France and West Germany.

In a major East Berlin speech Tuesday, the Soviet leader proposed an East-West agreement to outlaw atomic testing except for underground shots and a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic and European Communist military alliances.

U.S. officials said after the strategy huddles here that:

—It is not clear from Khrushchev's remarks whether he proposed an inseparable package combining the two issues, but if he did the United States would probably deem this unacceptable.

—The nonaggression pact proposal involves a matter which all the NATO allies would have to consider, not just the United States.

—The United States and Britain prefer a comprehensive treaty banning all atomic testing, including underground, enforced by effective controls. But they have offered a partial ban against testing in the atmosphere, in space and underwater in the past and the United States still believes this would be a forward step.

Officials suggested that Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, who leaves late next week for test ban negotiations in Moscow, will have a ready-made opportunity to probe the Kremlin stand.

The officials also said the U.S. government has not yet arrived at a definite position concerning

Boy Rescued In Salem Pool

Lifeguards Revive Gary Franklin, 14

SALEM — A 14-year-old city youth was saved from near drowning at the Centennial Park pool Wednesday afternoon following speedy rescue efforts by a companion and two lifeguards.

Gary Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franklin, 343 E. 7th St., was in "good" condition at Salem Central Clinic last night after the near tragedy.

The youth dove from a lower diving board at the pool into 11½ feet of water about 2:20 p.m. and was seen to begin thrashing about in apparent panic.

Jack Pasco, 13, a friend, noticed his trouble and attempted to grab him, but the other boy was grabbing at him, preventing a rescue.

Leo Taugher, 18, a lifeguard, dove in and pulled the youth to the side of the pool. Steve Chentow, 18, another lifeguard, lifted him out of the water.

Although blue in the face, the youth responded immediately to induced respiration. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance and given oxygen.

Nationwide Strike Looms

Administration, Congress Seen 'Key' To Rail Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz virtually conceded Wednesday that it will be up to the administration, with congressional backing, to head off a nationwide railroad strike before the work rules talk deadline expires next week.

There was no indication what steps might be taken to avert a strike.

Wirtz told a news conference it is "exceedingly doubtful" that collective bargaining can settle the dispute. But he added a hopeful footnote that this approach isn't being abandoned, saying: "We will exhaust every possibility still of finding some basis for settlement but that possibility is remote."

The railroads' chief spokesman reported a "complete breakdown" of talks that have been going on since June 15 at President Kennedy's request.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, said the unions have been notified that new work rules will be put into effect July 11. The railroads say these rules will eliminate unnecessary "feather-bedding" jobs.

The timing announced by the railroads, 12:01 a.m. on Thursday of next week, was picked because that is when an extension of a truce obtained by Kennedy expires. He said unless the dispute was settled by July 10 he would "make such recommendations to the Congress as these circumstances appear to dictate."

Kennedy said unless the two sides can settle their four-year-old dispute "there will be no alternative to the enactment of new legislation which will protect the public against a loss of its rail transport."

Wolfe accused the five operating unions of bringing to an end "the hollow mockery of collective bargaining on the issues." He said they had refused to accept any of the recommendations of either of the two presidential boards which had been named to help solve the long disagreement.

But Wolfe said the railroads still would consider any "constructive suggestions by the President, the secretary of labor, or any other interested party."

Won't Free 2 Russians

Russia Rejected By U.S. On Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States rejected Wednesday a Soviet demand for the immediate release of a Russian couple seized with two other persons Tuesday night on spy charges.

The Soviet charge d'affaires protested that the Russians, Ivan Dmitrievich Egorov, 41, and his wife, Aleksandra, 39, are entitled to diplomatic immunity and that their arrest was unlawful.

At the same time, Platon D. Morozov, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, protested to U.N. Undersecretary C. V. Narasimhan, contending that the couple have diplomatic immunity from arrest. Narasimhan said he did not think so, but promised to pass the protest along to U.N. Secretary General U Thant, who is in Hungary on a European tour.

Egorov, a $10,000-a-year personnel officer in the United Nations Secretariat at New York, was arrested with his wife at their Flushing, L.I., apartment.

They were charged with conspiring with Soviet military intelligence agents in espionage activities against U.S. missile sites and other military facilities.

Ignored in the diplomatic exchange were two mysterious Washington members of the alleged Communist spy team, who for reasons known only to themselves had appropriated the names of unsuspecting American citizens.

These two, taken in an FBI raid on a modest apartment in the Georgetown section, were masquerading as Robert Keistutus Balch and Joy Ann Garber Balch, but the FBI listed them as "John and Jane Doe."

The real Robert K. Balch is a Roman Catholic priest in upstate New York, and the FBI traced his supposed wife's name to a 33-year-old Norwalk, Conn., housewife and mother who is now Mrs. Robert Seskin.

Father Balch and Mrs. Seskin expressed shock and amazement at learning their names had been appropriated by a couple of alleged Russian spies.

The FBI was extremely secretive about the background of the counterfeit Balches, including their

Sex, Security Case Figure To Face Trial

British Osteopath Charged With Vice; Released On Bail

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Stephen Ward, a central figure in Britain's sex and security scandal, was ordered Wednesday to stand trial, probably in September, on a handful of vice charges. He denied them all.

One charge was added by the prosecution at the last minute after hints about sexual activities so strange that even a twice-convicted prostitute refused to talk about them in public.

Free on 2,000 pounds—$5,000—bail, Ward hurried away from Marylebone Magistrate's Court in a taxi to an undisclosed destination.

He was clutching the notebook in which he sketched the faces of girls who testified at the three-day pretrial hearing that Ward helped them meet paying friends ranging from former War Minister John D. Profumo and Soviet naval attaché Yevgeny Ivanov to millionaire Lord Astor.

Absent from the court, as Ward

Be Careful, Ohio Drivers Are Warned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The warning to be careful has been issued by state safety directors viewing statistics of an expected 27 deaths on Ohio highways over the long Fourth of July weekend.

Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson asks that motorists take extra precautions and apply the basic courtesies during the holiday period.

In addition to the 27 deaths, statisticians have listed Ohio for some 1,000 traffic injuries over the period which extends from 6 p.m. Wednesday night until midnight Sunday.

Col. Scott B. Radcliffe, superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, said the "objective of all enforcement agencies will be to save lives and reduce injuries that might result from careless operation of motor vehicles."

Likening the officer to an umpire in a baseball game, Radcliffe said, the officer will see that the rules are obeyed and take action against those who do not choose to follow them.

New Jersey Police Need Help

10-Minute Brawl Erupts Over Job Discrimination

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A demonstration against alleged job discrimination at a construction site turned into a brawl Wednesday when some 50 construction workers crashed a line of about the same number of Negro pickets.

Police were brushed aside in the 10-minute fist-swinging melee before police reinforcements were called in and regained partial control. But the pickets, including a half-dozen white persons, then began sitting down at the site entrance and police hauled them aside bodily. Two pickets were arrested.

Other small skirmishes broke out but a half-hour after the fighting erupted peace had been restored and the pickets were marching in a circle about 20 feet from the entrance singing integration songs and the construction men were at work on the high school project. By 9 a.m. the pickets had departed. There were no serious injuries.

Later, Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio asked the board of education to halt work on the $6.5-million project pending results of an investigation into complaints of job discrimination.

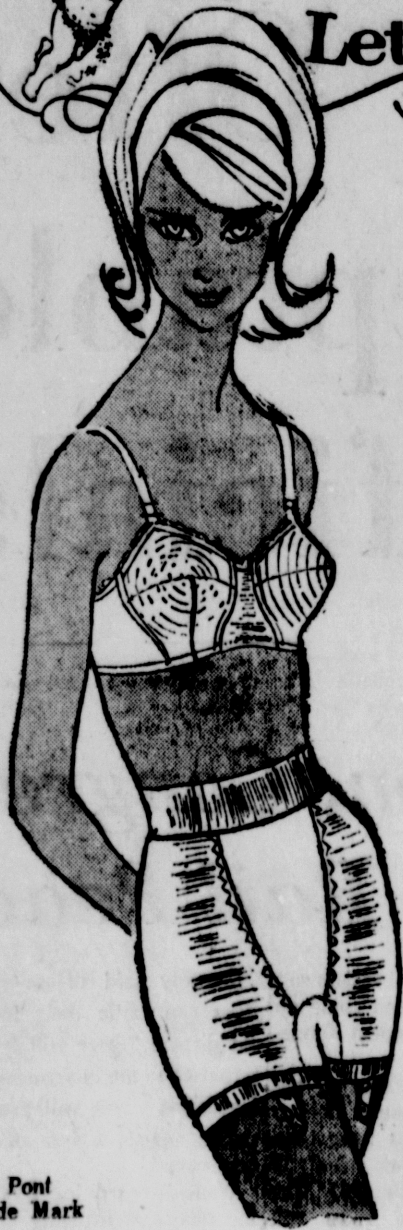

Prior to the mayor's action, New Jersey Assemblyman George C. Richardson, the only Negro in the State Assembly and a leader of the picketing, said the group, about 225 in all, would return Friday "and every other day until the mayor acts."

Richardson, who was carried away from the construction entrance several times by officers, accused police of being "unnecessarily, unduly rough."

"I thought union men were supposed to respect picket lines," he said, "but they attacked us with the help of police."

OGILVIE'S

Scandal

declared "I deny all the charges completely," were proteges Christine Keeler, who had business elsewhere, and Mandy Rice-Davies, who was frolicking on the sunny sands of the Spanish island of Mallorca.

The Keeler-Profumo-Ivanov relationship, with its possibilities of international intrigue, touched off the row which almost brought down Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government.

The 50-year-old society osteopath introduced Christine, 21, to Profumo in 1961, and also to Ivanov. Profumo resigned in disgrace June 5 after admitting the liaison he had at first denied. Ward was arrested June 8.

The prosecution dropped two charges, added one more and came up with an indictment charging Ward with:

Living on the earnings of prostitution by Miss Keeler and Miss Rice-Davies; inciting Miss Keeler to procure abortions for a "Miss W" and a "Miss R," and providing a bed in his apartment for Margaret Ricardo, a prostitute, to ply her trade.

The day's most sensational testimony came from Miss Ricardo, whose account prompted prosecutor Mervyn Griffith-Jones to hint she was involved in weird sexual activities, possibly involving a transparent mirror with unwitting performers on one side and paying spectators on the other.

The slight, auburn-haired woman had appeared earlier in the hearing and was recalled to be asked what she had done with men she met at Ward's apartment.

"I don't want to," she told Griffith-Jones. "I can't say in words."

"I don't think you should be shy," put in Magistrate Leo Gradwell.

Proposals

Khrushchev's offer although Kennedy gave it top priority in his first day back from his European trip. He held these meetings:

1. An hour-long morning gathering at the White House attended by Disarmament Chief William C. Foster, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Undersecretaries of State W. Averell Harriman and George W. Ball, and other senior advisers on nuclear testing and foreign affairs.

2. Another hour-long meeting by the same group at the White House in late afternoon, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk also sitting in. The participants left by a side door, avoiding newsmen.

Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger declined comment except to say that "the President considers Mr. Khrushchev's speech a matter of importance."

Urgency was added to the deliberations by the fact that Harriman is due to leave for Moscow late next week for renewed negotiations on the nuclear test ban issue.

With Khrushchev now linking the atomic weapons testing question to a nonaggression pact between the rival NATO and Warsaw military alliances, Kennedy wanted a round of consultations with his top advisers and the Western allies before deciding on what instructions to give Harriman. State Department officials arranged to see the British, French and West German ambassadors.

Complicating Kennedy's task was the ambiguity of Khrushchev's phrasing. The Kremlin chief proposed an agreement to outlaw atmospheric and underwater tests and said it is necessary to have a NATO-Warsaw nonaggression pact, "at the conclusion of a test ban agreement."

Unclear from his public address was whether (1) Khrushchev was merely reoffering an old Soviet partial test ban proposal which the West has rejected because it included an uninspected moratorium on underground testing, (2) The test ban and non-aggression pact offer was the same as past Soviet propositions which the West has spurned, particularly because they involved advancing the status of Communist East Germany.

The West also has proposed a ban on in-the-air atomic explosions, and it has not slammed the door on a nonaggression pact.

But it was clear that the West would not agree to one or both of Khrushchev's proposals if they were mere reofferings of proposals rejected in the past.

Western representatives declined to negotiate on a Soviet nonaggression pact proposal at the Geneva Disarmament Conference earlier this year on grounds that it was a political matter not belonging in a disarmament parley.

true names and nationalities, but Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy hinted they came from Russia.

Asked about the timing of the simultaneous arrests in New York and Washington, Kennedy told newsmen the FBI had received information that the Washington couple "were about to leave the country."

He said it appeared they were being "recalled" to the Soviet Union, but he declined any further comment as to their origin.

Like the Egorovs in New York, the couple was held without bail—the charge involves a possible death penalty—for a hearing July 16.

Kennedy said Communist spy activities in this country have been "on the increase" in recent years. He put in a renewed plug for a change in the law that would permit the use of wiretap evidence in such cases.

Midland's parade, comprised of 100 units, will move at 10:30 a.m. The fireworks display will be at 10 tonight.

Weirton's parade also is scheduled to start at 10:30.

In mid-afternoon Wednesday, traffic was comparatively heavy on the city Freeway. But there was no unusual volume of autos in the downtown business area, despite the impending holiday. The Freeway routes inter-city travelers outside the shopping district.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol reported traffic in its area was "picking up" early Wednesday evening, although the volume was not exceptionally heavy. No mishaps were reported Wednesday, officers said.

Midland police said traffic in the borough was "pretty heavy" early Wednesday evening. No mishaps were reported.

Traffic along Route 30 was somewhat above normal Wednesday afternoon, but began to assume a heavier holiday flow later, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Myers' semi-trailer, loaded with empty beer kegs, jack-knifed and its gasoline tank exploded, while the driver was tossed out of the cab of the flaming rig.

Petro's truck, carrying steel coils, went over an embankment, but he was unhurt, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Three men from a nearby truck stop pulled Myers from the burning wreck and he was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance.

sulting from segregated living conditions would, in time, be extended to the South.

"When we have legal desegregation," Saunders said, "we will still have segregated schools because of racially segregated neighborhoods."

"What we want," said Althea Simmons of Los Angeles, "is racially balanced schools throughout the nation, South as well as North."

"The Negro is not afraid to die," said L. C. Bates of Little Rock, Ark.

"The Negro is no longer afraid," said W. C. Patton of Memphis, Tenn. "He has learned that if he can die for his country, he can die for his race."

Leon Cox of Atlanta, Ga., said: "This thing has snowballed faster than anyone expected and it will bring about an end to segregation sooner than anyone expected."

The secretaries would not make any predictions as to time but Harold Strickland of Columbus, Ohio, said: "People who used to talk in terms of 10 or 20 years are way out of date."

The workers rejected talk of compromise.

Iraq Crushes Communists' Coup Attempt

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Iraq's government announced its troops and police crushed an attempted Communist coup at the Al Rashid army camp near Baghdad Wednesday.

The insurgent Communists and their hired agents were "annihilated in 30 minutes of fighting," the National Revolutionary Council declared in a statement broadcast by Radio Baghdad.

The broadcast gave no figures on the size of the rebel band or the casualties, but said some were under arrest. It said the prisoners were under investigation by a board of inquiry. The Communist party is outlawed in Iraq.

The uprising was the second major conspiracy reported smashed by the council since it overthrew and executed dictator Abdel Karim Kassem last Feb. 8-9 in a revolt started from Al Rashid, the most important military base in Iraq.

The Key Was Gettysburg

It is all very interesting, if sometimes childish, to re-enact Civil War battles as if they were not the ghastliest chapter in U.S. history — the memory least to be cherished.

It is in keeping with the American way of doing things to have a ring-ding-a-doo at Gettysburg, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the breaking point of the Confederacy's do-or-die effort to scuttle the Union.

The key fact about Gettysburg is the historic truth that when the horror of the war between brothers a century ago had been brought to a stop, it was conceded that the Confederacy never recovered from its losses in this fatal engagement.

This was when the Union was preserved and the rebels were defeated. This was when the betrayal of the United States by its own citizens, with the backing of hostile Britain, faced its moment of truth.

Presumably, the issue was settled by the Confederacy's defeat. There would be no further spurning of the Constitution and the authority of the federal government.

The thought was that if this were true the thousands who fell at Gettysburg and in all the other skirmishes and battles of a war that never should have happened would not have died in vain.

Is it not tragic twice over in 1963 that so many seem to have forgotten what supposedly was settled when the rebel forces spent so much life and treasure at Gettysburg that they had no choice but final surrender by the spring of 1865?

Welcome Back!

With bells making the headlines this Fourth of July, there could have been no more appropriate time for rescuing the old City Hall bell from the pile of bricks at the former W. 2nd St. playground where it had been cast aside.

The bell had become an accepted part of the city scene for years and held a warm spot in the hearts of many local residents. Some still vividly recall the part it played on Armistice Day during World War I while hauled around the city on a flat-bed truck.

The Joint Memorial Day Committee has performed a worthwhile service in resurrecting the bell and restoring it to a place of dignity, whether it ever rings again or not.

Cleveland's One-Party Tragedy

We frankly can't understand why Cleveland is so surprised that out of a population of 557,815 eligible voters only one citizen is willing to run for mayor.

He is the incumbent, Ralph S. Locher. It hardly seems necessary to point out that Mr. Locher is a Democrat.

If you aren't a Democrat, you don't stand a ghost of a chance to be elected in Cleveland.

If ever there was a one-party city, it is Cleveland.

Clevelanders now are beginning to show concern about this "unhealthy" situation. They are prating about the people's lack of interest and bemoaning the blow to the principles of democracy.

But it seems to be too late.

As recently as 1962, Willard R. Brown, a Republican, waged an aggressive, intelligent campaign against Mr. Locher.

And what happened?

He was buried under an avalanche of votes that gave his Democratic opponent the biggest margin ever rolled up in a Cleveland mayoralty race.

Is it any wonder there is only one candidate this year?

And what does this forebode for the political health of Cleveland?

Nothing you'd care to brag about.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Your aunt and I are interested in your proposal for the nutritional research project. As far as we know, nothing exactly like it ever has been done.

America does not know as much about feeding people as it knows about feeding cats. Dog food companies spend large amounts on research, with the effect that dogs eat better than people eat.

We know how to bring a beef steer to perfection, but no one to this day knows what's best for a football player.

Experts can get a horse ready for a horse show, but who are the experts who know how to bring a beauty queen down to the final judging in the pink of condition?

YOUR PROPOSAL for a continuous nutritional project to upgrade human beings, therefore, is ideal for two reasons — this one and the one on which you put stress.

Some people, we are afraid, will take angry exception to your notion that something must be done with the borderline retarded because they are a social obligation, therefore they should be turned to good account.

They will think this sounds hard-hearted. We think the other way. It would give these people a chance to be useful, which is what they want. And it would give them a chance to eat regularly though unemployed and unemployable.

That would be more than they're getting now. They would be well-fed, well-clothed and well-housed. They would be wards of the state, instead of ordinary beneficiaries of the state's productivity.

Moreover, by changing their status to citizens of special importance and making them part of a nutritional project, the state could use up more surplus farm production than it is using up now, doing out surplus commodities on a restricted basis.

WE DIFFER with you on the necessity of having all these people live in one place. They should live as nearly naturally as possible, to make the project comprable with ordinary living conditions.

We would merely have their living quarters inspected and their clothing checked. It would be essential, however, to have them eat in central feeding places, for the sake of controlling quality.

The effect would be like that on draftees when they go to military camps and get away from home cooking. They invariably gain weight and become healthier.

Yet, we never made a nutritional project of this. That would be the difference. Your scheme would be scientific.

We would learn how to feed a human being as scientifically as a beef steer, a bench champion, a blue ribbon pussy cat, or a race horse. We could be as scientific about prepping a beauty queen as a heifer for the county fair.

THE COUNTRY would have the knowledge, unemployables would have full bellies, farmers would have higher prices and the world would be beating a path to our door.

The Russians do somewhat the same thing with their army. So do the Chinese.

We once monkeyed with the general principle and called it a Civilian Conservation Corps. The idea is not new in itself. It's only the emphasis that would be new — the nutritional project. Nobody could very well knock the idea of eating up the surplus groceries in a good cause.

We send our regards to all — and whatever happened to June?

COTTON CORNERS UNCLE GEORGE

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill: You occasionally mention someone you have met who made a lasting impression on you for some reason or other, and at this time I would like to tell you about a few persons I have met who have stuck in my memory.

They may not be stranger than fiction but they are almost.

First of all, there were two police chiefs in widely separated towns who had never driven an automobile. I found this hard to believe at first, but inquiry disclosed they had started out in the horse-and-buggy days and just never got around to driving cars.

Both of the chiefs were along in years. When they had started out as policemen and had to pick up someone, they used a horse and buggy, sometimes rented from a livery stable. Later, when autos came in, they were chauffeured by other members of the force.

IN THIS DAY of high costs of education, a college student who comes frequently to mind is a chap who budgeted himself 45 cents a day for meals during the depression of the 1930s.

Every night, he had to spend some time at an observatory making notes of the positions of certain stars or other heavenly bodies. Nowadays, he is a professor of astrophysics and presents scholarly papers at such places as science conferences in England and Russia.

THEN THERE was the veteran lineman who proved his ability when a strap broke on one of his climbing hooks when he was up a pole. He simply hopped down the pole with his remaining good spur, much to the surprise of the young bucks in the line gang.

He said it was nothing; that in the old days it was commonplace for a lineman to work without a safety belt. He said a lineman hooked a crossarm in his tool belt, went up a pole, hooked a leg around the pole to hold himself and bolted the cross-arm to the pole.

I was never sure whether he was pulling our legs with that tale. But just about anything is possible.

IN OUR hitch-hiking days, we once got a ride from a fellow who said he was a juvenile probation officer in a nearby city. This gave us a momentary shock, but the ride was uneventful, except he was more sympathetic than most drivers and even gave us a candy bar.

With the shoe on the other foot we once picked up a man in a snowstorm and then almost slid through a stop light on the icy pavement. We said, "I hope you are not a policeman because you might give us a ticket."

It was reassuring to hear him reply, "No, I'm a city detective and don't have much to do with traffic but you are doing all right."

Best wishes to these people, wherever they are.

Either One Can Be Lethal

Spiritual, Intellectual Values Stressed

By J. Edgar Hoover

(J. Edgar Hoover was asked by Victor Riesel for comments on Independence Day—a holiday all too obscured by the weather, the gaiety which real security makes possible and oftentimes a cynicism which could undo both gaiety and security. Mr. Hoover's reply follows.)

On July 4th, as bells ring out in celebration across the United States, some of us will be reminded that the bell which pealed the first jubilant notes announcing the adoption of the Declaration of Independence in 1776 reached all the way back into Old Testament days for its message:

"Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." (Leviticus, XXV, 10)

That statement, engraved on the bell ordered for the State House at Philadelphia in 1751, is a living reminder that our origins as a nation are spiritual and idealistic.

The Founding Fathers believed that man, with God's help, is capable of self-rule and the blueprint of government which they gave us remains a continuing challenge.

Though the men who projected that magnificent experiment in government gained for us the liberty we currently enjoy, they cannot preserve it for us.

THEY GAVE US the guidelines for continuance of our freedom in a brief document which has safeguarded that freedom for 174 years. But we can continue to reap the benefits of the Founding Fathers' knowledge and vision only if we in turn are willing to expend similar effort and to act with intelligence and foresight.

For today, the premise that governments are instituted to secure certain natural rights and that such governments derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed" is under vicious attack.

Totalitarian Communism is increasing its challenging thrust in many areas. With mounting intensity, domestic Communists seek to spread their influence among our youth and to exploit racial unrest in the United States. They are unceasing in their efforts to infiltrate and secure a foothold in American labor unions.

Late in 1962, the Communist party distributed within party circles a document entitled "To Re-establish the Priority of Working Class Emphasis in the Work of the Communist Party."

THIS DOCUMENT is important. It is a statement on labor policy, and from a careful reading of it we may anticipate forthcoming Communist action in the labor field.

Some of the points listed in the program undoubtedly have considerable appeal to American labor.

Any apparent merit in these points, however, is not the reason for Communist promotional activity. On the contrary, Communist activity which appears to be directed toward correcting any existing inequities in the labor field is prompted solely by the desire to widen and enlarge the sphere of Communist influence in order that complete Communist control eventually may be achieved.

No area of American life is safe from Communist attempts to infiltrate and exploit, and Communism thrives best in a world in which faith is in retreat.

Therefore, in this week of celebrating the anniversary of a declaration which holds "these truths to be self evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights..." the words of the man whose active leadership made that declaration live are pertinent.

THE FIRST PRESIDENT of these United States said:

"It is impossible to govern the world without God. He must be worse than an infidel that lacks faith, and more than wicked that has not gratitude enough to acknowledge his obligation."

We endanger ourselves if we measure strength solely in terms of bullets, bombs, or manpower.

Former President Herbert Hoover pointed out the real strength of our people in a speech which he made at West Branch, Iowa, on Aug. 10, 1962. He said:

"The mightiest assurances of our future are the intangible spiritual and intellectual forces in our people, which we express, not by the words the United States, but by the word America. That word America carries meanings which lie deep in the soul of our people. It reaches far beyond the size of cities and factories."

"It springs from our religious faith, our ideals of individual freedom and equal opportunity, which have come in the centuries since we landed on these shores.

"It rises from our pride in great accomplishments of our nation and from the sacrifices and devotion of those who have passed on."

THE TRUE WEALTH of this Republic can be assessed only in spiritual terms. Indeed, the very wellsprings of our being as a nation are spiritual and idealistic. It is against these sources of our freedom that the regimented forces of materialism currently are directing their most concentrated attacks. And they are meeting with some success.

The forward march of materialism is apparent in changing attitudes and standards. It is clearly visible in contemporary reading material and in contemporary drama.

It is to be seen in the incidence of crime, in the bartering of moral integrity for the cynicism of "getting by," and in the refusal of growing numbers of citizens to accept personal responsibility.

This year, as freedom bells ring out in celebration of the birth of this greatest of all Republics, may the living reminder of our spiritual beginnings renew in us the dynamic faith which motivated the Founding Fathers. May we rededicate ourselves to the task of preserving the immortal dream which we inherited.

'Wake Up, America!'

Spiritual And Moral Appeal Made

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:
"America, America, God shed His grace on thee!"

Wake up, America, before it's too late! The America of today is a far cry from the Christian America of yesterday. Spiritually and morally, America today is decadent. We are full of corruption, confusion, deceit and evil-doings. We are not of God.

We have on this earth distress of nations, with perplexity (Luke 21: 25). Our leaders, with leaders of other nations, "run to and fro" seeking peace, "taking counsel together"; they seek not God's will but their own. "Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after these things which are coming on the earth." (Luke 21: 25, 26).

This is not for what our Founding Fathers prayed, dreamed and worked. Yes, even bled and died. They were led of God by the light of his word, the Bible. Today, our very liberty's foundation is threatened by the termites of Satan.

Review the words of a few of our forefathers and esteemed statesmen concerning our American heritage:

Benjamin Franklin (in the summer of 1776) — "I have lived a long time, and the longer I live the more convincing proofs I see of this truth, that God governs the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His will, is it possible for an empire to rise without His notice? We have been assured in the sacred writing that except the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it. I firmly believe this, and I also believe that without his concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel."

John Adams (in 1813) — "The general principles on which the fathers achieved independence were the general principles of Christianity!"

Abraham Lincoln, at Gettysburg, concluded his stirring address with the prayer that this nation, "under God," might have a new birth of freedom.

Lincoln also stated: "Faith in Our God is indispensable to successful statesmanship."

Horace Greeley — "It is impossible to mentally or socially enslave a Bible-reading people."

Patrick Henry — "It is impossible that a nation of infidels should be a nation of free men; it is when a people forget God that tyrants forge their chains."

Ulysses S. Grant — "The Bible is the sheet anchor of our liberties; write its principles upon your heart and practice them in your lives."

Woodrow Wilson summed it all up when he said: "Our civilization cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually. It can be saved only by becoming permeated with the spirit of Christ and being made free and happy by the practices which spring out of the spirit. Only this can discontent be driven out and all shadows lifted from the road ahead."

How much time do Americans today spend studying the word of God, our only compass and guide to life on this earth and for Heaven above? Very little, I'm afraid, or we would not aim to please the minority — a few agnostics, atheists and various other groups who came here to enjoy the blessings of liberty, knowing full well this was a Christian nation.

Now, however, these same groups seeks to destroy the very foundations of our liberty. They have the gall to object to the Bible and prayer, etc., as violating "their rights as a minority."

Separation of church and state is fine, but divorce of church and state is fatal.

America must acknowledge anew her dependence upon God if she wishes to continue to proclaim her independence from slavery and tyranny. "For where the spirit of the Lord is there is liberty." (II Cor. 3: 17).

Mr. Marshall said: "If I were to have my way, I would take the torch out of the Statue of Liberty and in its stead place the open Bible."

God says in Psalm 33:12: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people, whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance."

Then he says also (Ps. 9:18)— "The wicked shall be turned into hell and all nations that forget God."

I say, Yes, wake up, America, before it is too late!

The Cost Of Freedom

By Jack Leggett

The Fourth of July is sort of like Christmas. Just about everyone celebrates it, one way or another, but far too few remember what the day signifies. If they ever knew.

The Fourth of July we are celebrating today marks the signing of the Declaration of Independence way back there in 1776, when there were no airplanes or television or machineguns or hydrogen bombs — when the American colonials thought the most awful thing on the face of this earth was the sprawling British Empire.

Whether or not England was bad or not so bad, the colonists in America objected to its taxes and regulations and autocratic treatment.

They objected enough to demand reforms. When the English Parliament refused to change things, the Americans were willing to fight for the changes.

THEY DECLARED to the world they were striking out for themselves, that they would make their own laws and obey them, that they would levy their own taxes and pay them, that they would run their own country and live in it.

That declaration is what we are celebrating today. Or, rather, we are celebrating the successful outcome of the events it triggered, for if the struggle which followed had not been capped by American success, there would be nothing to celebrate.

Those tough and determined souls who founded this nation were willing to fight for their freedom — also willing to die for it.

There is a strange thing about freedom. It is something that can't be picked off the supermarket shelf. You can't select it from a mail order catalog.

It doesn't grow on a tree, like money. You can't flip it on, like electricity.

Freedom always has to be died for.

No country, no people ever got it by just asking for it. Somewhere along the line, people had to die for it — sometimes many thousands of people.

SINCE THE last whiffs of powder smoke faded into the air and the drum rolls died at the end of the Revolutionary War, succeeding generations of Americans have inherited freedom.

But, through all those generations, Americans still have had to fight for their freedom, in one war or another. Americans have had to die for it, again and again, in one place or another.

Our freedom literally is steeped in blood and death. Blood and death make it all the more precious.

The American Colonial Army at first was depreciated by the well-equipped British as a "rabble in arms."

The colonials never did get to look much like soldiers. The ragtag army got shabbier and shabbier and hungrier and hungrier.

But, tougher and tougher.

The men died of wounds and exposure and starvation. They died at Trenton and Ticonderoga and Saratoga and Yorktown. But, they took more and more British along with them.

In the end, they won their freedom — and ours.

Americans have died since for freedom. They died to maintain the Union — and its freedoms — at Antietam and Vicksburg and Atlanta and Gettysburg.

They died at Chateau-Thierry and Belleau Wood.

And in the bloody rubble at Anzio, in the churned sand at Omaha Beach, along the Normandy hedgerows and in flames over Berlin.

There were the jungles of Guadalcanal and there was the volcanic ash at Iwo Jima.

And there was Pork Chop Hill.

It is likely that the future will see other Americans called upon to die in order to keep the freedom which stems from the Declaration of Independence of 187 years ago.

That is what we are celebrating today — and it might be worthwhile to ask ourselves if we are celebrating it in the proper way.

Take the kids to see the parades and the flaming pinwheels and bursting skyrockets. Let them have their fun, for this is a holiday. But, make certain they understand the now-obscure reasons behind a Grand and Glorious Fourth.

Make certain they know what sacrifices of the past went in today's festivities. Make certain they understand that they are free because thousands and thousands and thousands of Americans died.

Water In Lisbon Town Well Given State's Approval

LISBON — Columbiana County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale says Lisbon village officials may release the tied-down pump handle on the old town pump. The Ohio Department of Health laboratory at Cuyahoga Falls Wednesday reported the water is fit to drink.

Stockdale said he was surprised because the well has a "bad history" in County Health Department records.

He sent a sample away last week after Joe Gouldsberry, who installed the new pump, took a sample and got a "satisfactory" finding at city laboratories in East Liverpool.

Stockdale said he does not trust the old well and will take samples every couple of weeks. Anticipating the tin cup which local experience proves is sure to appear sooner or later, Stockdale said: "The water's safe, but people should use their own cups or containers."

New Covered Bridge Built In Maryland

HEREFORD, Md. — A covered wooden bridge has just been built a mile from here, across Gunpowder Falls on the Bunker Hill Rd.

It is the first covered wooden bridge built for public use in Maryland since the 1880s. But when the original covered bridge over Gunpowder Falls was destroyed by fire in 1961, the Baltimore County Historical Society urged that it be replaced in kind. The new bridge has been treated with fire retardant and wood preservative. It is expected to surpass the 81-year life of the old bridge.

Conelrad To Go Into History

New Means Of Wartime Communication Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

Bye bye Conelrad: The Federal Communications says it's now official: on Aug. 5 Conelrad will go into broadcast history and a new means of wartime communication for American civilians will take its place.

This means that the two little blips marking 640 and 1240 on your AM radio dial will be nothing more than a souvenir of an 11½-year-old plan which never had to be put to its supreme test.

The FCC announced a new emergency broadcast system (EBS) has been adopted.

Under the new system, AM stations holding national defense emergency authorization licenses—some 1,200 of them—will continue to broadcast on their regular frequencies, instead of switching to 640 and 1240, as under Conelrad.

They will transmit only government broadcasts, going off the air at all other times.

Television and FM stations, as well as unauthorized AM stations, will go silent.

College education: Fifty-two House members have asked for early hearings on bills to provide income tax deductions for the cost of college and other advanced education.

Their petition was addressed to Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Money-Making Idea Clicks For Kiwanians

LAGRANGE, Ky. — The Lagrange Kiwanis Club was grasping for money - making ideas when its scholarship fund for needy college students dipped to $25.

"Let's buy an old school bus, turn it into a traveling kitchen and sell lunches at real - estate auctions all over the county," suggested club member Johnny Yochum.

In the one year interval, the club has paid for the bus and has more than $200 in its growing scholarship fund.

And So She Lost

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — A woman patron at the Miami Beach Dog Track asked the pari-mutuel clerk for a 5-6 quinella ticket on the next race, but the clerk accidentally gave her a 5-7. The woman protested, but had to go to the front office to get the ticket changed. She returned to her seat with 5-6 just in time to see 5-7 pay $47.80.

Steel Ties Too

NEW YORK (AP) — Pakistan is building a railroad that has steel ties as well as steel rails. Called sleepers, the steel ties are being made here. They will meet the demands of the wider track gauge in Pakistan (66 inches instead of 56½), and last a long time under severe weather and service according to Steelways, official publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Wilson-Summers Nuptials Held At Church In Alliance

St. Joseph Catholic Church in Alliance was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jerry Lynn Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin L. Wilson of Berlin Center, and George Summers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Summers of Harrison Ave., June 29 during a morning Nuptial Mass at 11 o'clock.

Fr. Gerald Janosik, pastor, was officiating priest.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length white cotton lace sheath and a small crown with nose-length veil.

For "something old," the bride carried a prayer book, a gift from the bride's grandmother, Mrs. F. M. Howell, when she was a child. It was covered in lace and topped with rosebuds and stephanotis.

For traveling the bride wore a dark green plaid cotton ensemble with bone-colored accessories and her mother's corsage.

Miss Mary Jane Summers, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's attendant. She was attired in a pale blue polished silk broadcloth with lace jacket. She carried an arrangement of pink rosebuds.

The bride's mother wore a beige embroidered sheath with beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in beige lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow rosebuds.

Edward Summers, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride is a graduate of Southeast High School, near Ravenna. Her husband is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and served three years with the Army in Korea. He is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

The couple is residing on Alpa St.

A reception followed the wedding. The bridal table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Glenn Kirkbride, a friend of the bride.

Aides were Mrs. Albert Strong, Mrs. Ford Newell, Mrs. Robert Howell, Miss Christine Kay Howell, Mrs. E. T. McCune and Mrs. Lester Cooper.

Glands Can Determine Where Fat Is Deposited

Overweight is usually a manifestation of overnutrition. However, there is such a condition as glandular obesity. It is known that 3 per cent of all overweight is influenced by glandular dysfunction. We inherit our frame or body build, and we also inherit the tendency to accumulate fat in certain areas. For example, often a mother and a daughter will both be inclined to have full hips. In some families the tendency is toward stocky lower legs, and in others toward slender legs. In short, we inherit the normal variation of the distribution of fat.

shoulders and my bust is skimpy. My upper arms are soft and flabby, and my forearms just skin and bones. Actually I appear about 15 pounds underweight above the waist, and my face and neck are thin and scrawny. But my hips are enormous — they measure eight inches larger than my bust, and they are soft and flabby, despite exercise. What can I do?"

ANOTHER LETTER. "Following an operation I added an excess 25 pounds and every pound piled on my hips! I am now pear shaped, and most unhappy about my figure. Is exercise or diet the answer?" In both these cases, the problem is a medical one. Ask the family doctor to recommend an endocrinologist.

Bear in mind that these cases of excess fatty deposits caused by glandular dysfunction are the exception, not the rule. The endocrine glands do not cause the overweight, but merely determine the places where the fat, due to overeating, will be deposited. In these specific cases of overweight which are complicated by a glandular disturbance, diet with specific medication is the solution. Exercise is important too.

HOWEVER, when the deposit of fat in certain places is carried to extremes, then the doctor suspects the possibility of a glandular disturbance. Recently a number of letters have come from readers complaining bitterly of futile efforts to reduce enormously large hips. Here is an excerpt from a letter:

"I am utterly discouraged. I am very narrow through the

Panel Discussion Marks Baptist Women's Session

A program in the form of a television panel discussion, highlighted the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church Tuesday night at the church.

The theme was "Making the World Friendly," with Mrs. Edy Kittridge as program and devotional chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Edith Rodenhause, Mrs. Wanda Schussler, Mrs. Mae Littell and Mrs. Jackie Pearce. Miss Karen Schussler sang a solo, "He's Got the Whole World In His Hand," with her mother at the piano. The group sang "All Hail the Power" and "Jesus Shall Reign."

Business was conducted by Mrs. Grace Taylor, vice president, in the absence of Mrs. Beverly Bayley, president.

Carol and Lois Rodenhause and Elaine Garver, all members of the Church Guild, reported on the Guild-o-Rama held last week at Denison University at Granville.

Letters were read from missionaries. They included a letter from a former minister, the Rev. Orville Sowards, and his wife, who are in Burma.

It was announced that the Wooster Association of Ohio will hold a coverdinner dinner July 10 at Water Works Park in Canton.

The Love Gift was received and dedicated by Miss Rose Peterson. Prayer was led by Mrs. Agnes Kittridge.

Refreshments were served 18 by Mrs. Dorothy Baur, Mrs. Helen Schell and Mrs. Mary Waggers.

Next meeting Aug. 6 will feature a picnic at Thompson Park. The social committee will be in charge.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore the appearance of a felt hat that has been soaked in the rain?

A. First let it dry partially, and then press out the creases in the crown. Next, turn down the band and place the hat in some cool place away from any heat, and let it dry thoroughly. Then reshape the crown, and brush the hat gently. If your work has been done with "loving care", your hat should look as good as ever.

Q. How can I clean out that hard-to-remove sediment that persists in clinging to the bottoms of bottles or glass vases?

A. Fill the vessel half-full with warm soapuds, then add a handful of carpet tacks. Shake vigorously, and watch that sediment loosen.

Q. What are some of the most popular first-aid methods for spots and stains?

A. White vinegar, for dissolving acid stains. Glycerine, a wet-cleaning lubricant. Petroleum jelly or white mineral oil, for use as a dry-cleaning lubricant. Hydrogen peroxide for stains that require a mild bleach. Carbon tetrachloride, the most-often-used dry solvent. Chlorine bleach for stains requiring a strong bleach. White blotting paper, or paper toweling. A small, stiff-bristled brush.

Q. How can I make easier the job of sealing a great number of envelopes for a large mailing, and thus save my tongue a lot of work?

A. Here's a good sealer you can improvise: Merely moisten the flaps of your envelopes with an ice cube wrapped in a clean cloth. The ice keeps melting fast enough to keep the cloth damp while

Civil Rights Odds

By Laurence Barrett

If a filibuster by Southern Democrats forces the Kennedy administration to settle for a weak civil rights bill, the White House can assign large share of the blame to a tactical blunder it made last January.

The 88th Congress was beginning its first session. A bipartisan group of Senate liberals announced it would make its traditional effort to amend Senate Rule XXII—a rule that requires a vote of two-thirds of those present to choke off debate and allow the Senate to vote on a substantive issue.

Slight growth in the Liberal ranks because of the last election caused optimism that this anti-filibuster movement might be more successful than past ones. Most observers thought that one more ingredient was necessary — firm support from President Kennedy.

The White House decided, however, to stay neutral. It rejected pleas for help from those who would have made the filibuster easier to curb.

IN RETROSPECT. It appears that strong presidential intervention might have been decisive. If Rule XXII had been changed Senate arithmetic indicates that the filibuster would not be a serious threat to the Kennedy Civil Rights bill today.

The usual reason was given for Mr. Kennedy's aloofness. The fight was an internal legislative matter, it was said, and it is up to the Senate to make its own decision.

Some questioned this stand in view of the President's deep — and successful — plunge into the internal legislative affairs of the House of Representatives. There, the dispute was over the size of the Rules Committee.

The question was whether to retain the present membership of 15, as the President desired, or revert to 12. Publicly and privately, the President did everything in his power to produce a favorable vote. He won easily.

His voluntary involvement in the House dispute made a mockery of the explanation of his abstention from the Senate fight.

Another, more creditable explanation is that in January and February the administration did not plan a big civil rights bill. The proposal that it did back was not considered a high-priority matter.

In those pre-Birmingham days, the domestic "musts" were tax reduction and reform, Medicare and aid to education.

Thus the White House rationale was this: Why make enemies in the Senate on an issue not regarded as pressing? Besides, there was some doubt that the President could tip the balance even if he tried.

IT'S ALWAYS difficult to assess the President's influence on Congress in a given situation. Estimates of his possible impact on the filibuster issue vary. A review of the events of last January and February is necessary to form an opinion.

There were a number of proposals for modifying rule XXII. Most of the liberals united behind a move to reduce the proportion of those present necessary to end debate from two-thirds to three-fifths. In partial terms, this would mean that if all 100 senators were present it would take 60 votes to quash a talkathon rather than 67, as at present. The difference is regarded as crucial.

The Southern Democrats, under the able leadership of Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, did the natural thing. They staged a filibuster to prevent a substantive vote on the issue of amending Rule XXII.

The fight dragged on for a month. Little effort was made to wash out Southern speechmakers. At no time did the Senate Leadership seriously consider "round-the-clock" sessions. The success of the Southerners is easily seen: for a month there was no vote on the merits of the rules amendment.

THE LIBERALS prevailed, 54 to 42, but the percentage was not big enough. They needed 10 more to have a majority of those present. Ironically, 10 Democrats from outside the Deep South supported the Southern position.

If the Southerners launch a real filibuster against the Civil Rights bill, only illness or death will prevent every senator from being in his seat when the vote for cloture comes.

The scorecard keepers now guess that the administration could muster 60 votes to close debate — the figure that would have been the maximum necessary had Rule XXII been amended. But it is highly unlikely that 67 votes can be obtained.

Thus the talk of compromise with the Southerners even before the battle starts.

Funeral Set Friday For Noted Editor

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Alicia Patterson, founder, editor and publisher of the Long Island daily newspaper Newsday, died Tuesday night. She was 56.

A funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Cathedral of the Incarnation (Episcopal) here.

She was the daughter of the late Capt. Joseph Medill Patterson, founder of the New York Daily News. Patterson was a cousin of the late Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

With her when she died in Doctors Hospital, New York City, after surgery for a stomach ulcer was her husband, Harry F. Guggenheim, president of Newsday and former ambassador to Cuba. She had entered the hospital June 20 and had undergone three operations in a 24-hour period.

Mrs. Guggenheim once hunted tigers in the jungles of French Indochina, and set several speed records for women fliers before she turned to newspaper publishing.

In 1940, with $70,000 in financial backing from her husband, son of copper magnate Daniel Guggenheim, she established Newsday at Garden City.

Preparations Slated For Laos Peace Talks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Preliminary Neutralist and pro-Communist Pathet Lao representatives have decided to meet three times weekly to prepare for eventual resumption of peace talks between the Neutralist premier of Laos, Prince Souvanna Phouma, and the Pathet Lao titular chief, Prince Souphanouvong, at the Plaine des Jarres.

A communique issued after Wednesday's session said the two sides will discuss how to insure the security of the two delegations at the neutralist-held Plaine.

Five-Block Area Is Evacuated In Spectacular Fire

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A spectacular fire at an oil company bulk plant caused worried officers, fearing an explosion, to evacuate a five-square block area

Wednesday before it was brought under control.

The stubborn blaze at the Cities Service Oil Co. plant downtown sent flames hundreds of feet into the air. It billowed black smoke so high it could be seen in St. Louis, 30 miles west.

The fire raged out of control for an hour and a half. It threatened other storage tanks, a string of railway oil tankers, a coal yard and a residential area in this city of 10,000 population.

Three firemen suffered from smoke inhalation or burns.

The manager of the Cities Service plant, Henry Weinacht, did not make an immediate estimate of damage.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruce —

Dear Homemaker: Let's talk about covering our dining room chairs today. You can do it yourself. It's inexpensive, it's easy and it's quick.

All you have to do is turn the chair upside down, remove the little screws in each corner, and the seat comes loose.

Remove it and lay it on your material and draw a pattern, allowing a few inches to turn under.

If you have a stapler . . . use it! It's great and quicker than tacks and saves mashed fingers. If you don't have one, use your hammer and tack the material to the seat. Replace the seat and screws and presto . . . it's beautiful.

If your dining room chair has cushioned backs, I have found it best to pull the gimp loose as it's usually glued on. Either remove the old material from the back or cut a pattern by holding a piece of foil over the material and mashing it with your fingernail.

A PERFECT PATTERN will result. Make your pattern and then cut your material. Replace on chair back and either tack or staple on the fabric.

Replace the same gimp with some good glue. It is not necessary to buy new gimp. It usually lasts for years and years.

I do not always rip off the old upholstery on my dining room chairs. I just apply the new material over the old. This gives it more cushion.

But . . . and here's the real tip-off . . . while you're covering those chairs put two pieces of fabric over the SEAT!

Here's why: The seat of the chair always gets soiled before the back does.

We figure about twice as fast. So, when the seat cover becomes soiled that it must be replaced (but then you won't be able to match your material) just remove the top cover!

I FEEL THAT the soil will work down through the top layer just enough so that when the top cover is ripped off, it will exactly match the back of the chair. At least we found it so.

So look for some fabric on sale and cover your dining room chairs. And it's worth the few extra dollars to get enough material to cover the seats twice.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Lemon juice is just wonderful for removing stains on the fingers. Squeeze the juice of a lemon into a very small container and soak your fingers in it.

You will find that the cuticle may be pushed back with ease and the juice is also good for fingers. Afterwards gently brush with mild hand soap and warm water and rinse well. Use your favorite hand cream and just see the difference.

This can usually be done during the interval of waiting in the kitchen while preparing a meal as it takes only a very few minutes.

DIXIE PARKER.

Dear Dixie: Many manicurists have written to us saying that lemon juice is the finest there is for removing stains.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Another use for your old bath towels — besides your Heloise blouse — is to bind the edges with bright colored bias tape, put elastic loops on the corner and you have a bathinette or changing table cover! And, if you have looked at the price of ready-made bathinette covers lately . . . you will run for the sewing notions counter and make a half a dozen yourself!

Another baby hint: Fill an odd stock with some navy beans, tie a knot in the middle of the foot — you can even embroider a face on it — and you have a perfect bean bag for your little one. I leave the "tail" on the bean bag. It's a wonderful handle for swinging it.

LUE ANNE ROBBINS.

Leak Suspected, Lisbon Plans To Shut Down Pool

LISBON — The Sadie P. Van Fossan Memorial Swimming Pool will be closed indefinitely because of a water leak, Village Councilman Fred Steele announced on Wednesday. He is a member of the pool commission.

Steele said the pool lost a foot of water Tuesday night while the water was being circulated through the filter.

This must be a new leak, he said, because there was no apparent loss two nights ago during circulation.

"It's a bad one; we'll have to tear up the concrete apron, locate the leak and make repairs," he said.

It is unlikely the pool will be open for the holiday and reopening time is indefinite, he said.

A break in a plastic pipe was responsible for a falling water level after the pool was filled the first week in June. Opening was delayed until June 15 for repairs.

Negley Men Hurt As 2 Cars Crash

Two young Negley area men received moderate injuries Tuesday night when their car and another sideswiped on Route 154 about 1½ miles west of Negley, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Donald Wayne Davis, 22, of Negley R. D. 1 was passing another auto operated by Paul O. Miner, 44, of Columbiana R. D. 1 when Miner's car apparently drifted to one side and the cars collided.

Davis' auto skidded and went into an embankment, officers said. He received a cut of the elbow, and Dale Allen Davis, 16, of Negley R. D. 1, a passenger, suffered bruises of the head and abrasions of the shoulder. They were treated by an East Palestine physician.

Recalling The Past

One Of Life's Pleasures

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's greatest pleasures is recalling the past.

Nostalgia begins very early. As a boy grows older and has more to recall, nostalgia will play a larger role in his life. You're probably pretty much of a yore-dreamer yourself, if you can turn back the clock of thought and remember when—

More people drank cream soda pop than any other flavor.

Lon Chaney scared more film fans than Boris Karloff and "King Kong" put together. Remember him in "Phantom of the Opera" and Hunchback of Notre Dame?

When you changed a nickel, two of the five pennies you got back would have Indian heads on them.

The most widespread forms of gambling in America were pitching coins at a crack in the pavement—and playing marbles for keeps.

Half the kids in the land thought John Dillinger was a late-blooming Robin Hood, and the other half wanted to grow up and become a "G-man" under J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI.

Every boy knew how to make a whistle out of an old cotton spool or a hollow swamp weed.

All girls played tennis in skirts. Those bold enough to show up in shorts were ruled off the courts.

Families weren't afraid to sleep in public parks at night during heat waves, because mugging had not yet become the criminals' leading outdoor sport.

Anybody who couldn't learn to repair a punctured inner tube in a jiffy had no business going motoring.

At least 100 persons a year were killed in Fourth of July fireworks explosions—and uncounted kids lost fingers.

Women spent more time braiding their hair than fixing their faces.

Only hoboes and people on pic-

Mayor Of Rogers And Bride Take Arizona Wedding Trip

Mayor Robert E. McCreary of Rogers and his bride, the former Linda Lea Risinger of Negley, are honeymooning in Arizona after their wedding Saturday at 6:30 o'clock at the Lake Mount Church of Christ near Rogers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Park Risinger of Negley. McCreary is the son of Mrs. Edward Sauer of Paipon, Ariz., and the late Herbert McCreary.

Gene Marvin, minister, performed the double ring ceremony. Flowers were used to decorate the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with a chantilly lace bodice, sweetheart neckline, nylon over taffeta skirt with lace inserts and long pointed sleeves. She also had a crystal crown with a long veil of illusion and a crystal necklace.

She carried a Bible covered with white carnations, stephanotis and ivy leaves knots streamers.

Miss Donna Risinger, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue lace over taffeta with a draped collar and streamers in the back. She had a halo veil of blue net and a bouquet of white carnations, pink rosebuds and white stephanotis.

Robert Risinger, a cousin of the bride, served as best man. The ushers were James Risinger, a brother of the bride, and William Bowers, a friend of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Risinger wore a lavender dress with white accessories and a yellow carnation corsage. Mrs. Sauer did not attend because of the distance she would have had to travel.

An aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Franklin of Columbiana, sat for the bridegroom. Mrs. Franklin wore a Navy blue dress with white accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

Mrs. William Crawford, pianist, provided music for the ceremony. Some 105 attended a reception which followed at the New Waterford Fish and Game Club.

The table was decorated with a white linen cloth and a three-tiered wedding cake of lavender and white, topped with a miniature bride couple.

The bride's table was decorated with a lavender and white flower centerpiece and lavender candles. Jean George registered the guests. Out-of-state guests were from Slippery Rock and Mars, Pa.

Ohio Boy Trips Over Relic Of 1812 War

MAUMEE, Ohio (AP)—Ricky Gulvas, 15, appears to have stumbled, literally, over a relic of the War of 1812.

He stubbed his toe while playing along the banks of the Maumee River near his home. Looking down, he found a half-buried cannonball. The spot is across the river from the site of Fort Meigs, and Maumee historians think the shot may have been fired during a siege a century and a half ago.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you will answer this in your usual breezy, up-to-the-minute style. Please don't turn narrow-minded on me or I'll just die.

I am taking a summer course at UCLA. I have rented a comfortable room near campus with a nice family. I can have my meals with the family but it would cost $20 a month extra. I'm trying to get by on as little possible and this is why I am writing.

A very nice fellow who is in my sociology class has a nice apartment with a cute kitchenette. This boy has offered to buy the groceries and I can have all my meals with him if I'll do the cooking.

I'm a good cook and would like to take him up on his offer if you say it is okay. Also it would give me a chance to experiment with some new recipes. What do you say?—SUNNY.

Dear Sunny: Have your meals with the family, Toots. And if you are so eager to experiment with new recipes, ask the woman if you can prepare some of the meals in her kitchen. She'll probably be delighted.

You're putting a pretty low price on your services if you are willing to hire yourself out as a cook and bottle-washer for $5 a week.

P.S.: I apologize if this advice isn't in keeping with my usual breezy, up-to-the-minute style.

Hands Of Toil

Dear Ann: I have a problem which may not seem important to others but it has caused me no end of unhappiness.

My husband is a garage mechanic. He is one of the finest men who ever walked in shoe leather. I wouldn't trade him for Richard Burton. But his hands and nails never look clean.

When ever we are with friends or relatives I have the uncomfortable feeling that they are not noticing this. No one ever has said anything but it bothers me.

I told him about my feelings a few months ago. It was the first and only time I ever brought it up in the 10 years we've been married. He says there is nothing wrong with honest labor and he doesn't care if his hands label him as a working man because that's what he is.

If I'm foolish please tell me.—NOT COMFORTABLE.

Dear Not Comfortable: Honest labor is nothing to be ashamed of but a man's hands need not label him.

Excellent soaps which will remove every bit of grease and grime are available. A man who will not take the time to use these special soaps must accept the label of "careless" because that's what he is.

Ignorance Is Burden

Dear Ann: My husband's mother makes her home with us.

She's a pleasant person but in the last year she has failed badly and the doctor says she is suffering from hardening of the arteries. Unfortunately, this is affecting her mind.

Our children who are 8 and 11 years of age have told us that grandma doesn't keep her promises and she then denies ever having made them.

My husband doesn't feel we should burden the children with the facts because they are too young to understand. Also, he fears they may say something which might hurt her feelings.

How should I deal with this? Can you help?—NOT COPING.

Dear Not: Facts about mental illness should be part of the education of all children. Ignorance is the real burden—not facts. If your children are informed properly they will have compassion for their ailing grandmother and will treat her with kindness and understanding.

TO IN LOVE AGAIN: It hardly pays for you to leave Reno. Make this marriage work. You will not do better "next time"—and from every indication you probably will do worse.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Airman Ends Leave

NEGLEY — Airman IC John R. Huston, son of Mrs. Dorothy Huston of Negley R.D., returned Monday to the Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines after a 30-day emergency leave at home because of the death of his father, Jack Huston. A 1959 graduate of New Waterford School, he entered the service in 1959 and recently signed for four more years.

Objectives Cited By New Railway Head

CLEVELAND (AP) — Raising employees' morale and stopping the "cash drain" are immediate objectives of William White, who has moved into the driver's seat of the ailing Erie-Lackawanna Railroad.

White, who is chairman also of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, faces a big challenge with the Erie-Lackawanna. The Erie reported deficits of $16,008,000 last year, $26,488,750 in 1961 and $19,995,614 in 1960.

The new chief said his initial approach to the Erie-Lackawanna will be to "try to raise the morale of its people, to instill in them the necessity for really getting down to a bare boat situation for a while and to try to avoid taking down loans with government guarantees."

In May the road asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to guarantee a $15 million loan.

"In addition we must seek some relief from our debt burden under provisions of the Mahaffie Act," White said.

That law permits railroads to refinance their debt structure providing 75 per cent of the holders of securities involved agree.

All Of Ghost Towns Aren't In The West

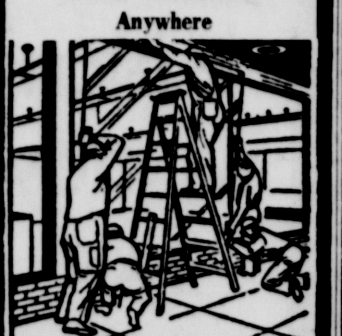

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — All the ghost towns aren't in the West. There's one in the middle of Ft. Knox, a sprawling military reservation 25 miles southwest of Louisville.

The town at the junction of the Salt and Rolling Fork Rivers was known as Pitts Point, boasted a college, salt and lumber industries and a century ago had a population of more than 300. But less than 100 persons remained in the area and the post office and college were gone when the Army acquired the territory before World War II.

Testifies On Rights Program

Bob Kennedy Denies Bill Aims Stab At Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy denied Wednesday that any new principle or any effort "to shake business" is involved in the public accommodations bill, a key part of the administration's civil rights program.

Testifying for the third day before the Senate Commerce Committee, he said "there have been a lot of smokescreens about a stab at business" in attacks on the bill.

Kennedy said that opposition to the measure ought to be based on the facts.

The bill would prohibit racial discrimination by stores, restaurants, hotels, theaters and other private establishments engaged substantially in interstate commerce and catering to the general public. It has come under heavy attack from some members of Congress, particularly Southerners, as an unconstitutional assault on private property rights.

Kennedy's exchange today came not with a Southern senator but with Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

Lausche said that under the attorney general's definition of interstate commerce, practically all private business establishments would appear to be covered.

"I am trying to learn how far you contend the Congress can ultimately go in bringing the business of the country within this philosophy," Lausche said.

"We are not coming in here with any new principle," Kennedy told him, declaring that Congress has passed numerous measures that effect the operations of restaurants, drugstores and other businesses.

Lausche said he concurred in the need to cure any wrongs, but he told Kennedy he wanted to be sure that "in correcting one wrong we don't do another."

Kennedy, who said he was late for a Cabinet meeting at the White House, was excused as a witness, but he agreed to come back later if any question should come up the committee wants to ask him.

2 More Arrests Made In Alleged Prostitution Ring

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Montgomery County authorities have arrested two more persons in an investigation of an alleged prostitution and pornography ring in the county.

The two latest arrests, reported Wednesday, were those of Kenneth J. Arkenberg, 37, of Kettering, a Dayton attorney, charged in juvenile court with two counts of acting in a manner tending to cause the delinquency of a minor, and Audrey Collier, 21, alias Audrey Love, charged in municipal court at Miamisburg with lewd conduct.

The investigation stemmed from a raid in which lewd pictures were seized.

Earlier, authorities arrested two women on prostitution charges in Vandalia, and two other women on charges of lewd conduct. Other arrests may follow, authorities indicated.

Bloodshot Eyes Not From Light

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Like spectators in his courtroom, Municipal Court Judge Russell Leach was unable to restrain a smile during the questioning of a witness in a drunken driving case.

A police officer testified that the driver showed all the indications of being intoxicated. The officer admitted that he shined a flashlight into the eyes of the driver. He then was asked if he realized the effects of shining a light into one's eyes.

"I'm not sure," replied the officer, "but I do know that it does not cause bloodshot eyes."

Work Started On Structure For Gas Firm

Work on a new $180,000 building for the Ohio Valley Gas Co. has been started on a five-acre tract on Lisbon St., about a mile northwest of the city limits, Harold R. Sneddon, East Liverpool manager for the utility, said Wednesday.

When the new building is completed early in 1964, it will serve as headquarters for 37 employees, replacing the present service center on Poplar Ln., Sneddon said. The employees include 26 from the plant department, 10 from the service department and one from the gas measurement department.

The new operating center will be owned by a pension trust and occupied by the utility under a long-term lease, Sneddon said. Theodore Bogner & Sons, Inc., of Wooster is general contractor. Of brick and masonry construction, the new building will contain 10,000 square feet of floor space, including a conference and office area of 2,000 square feet, warehouse area of 2,137 square feet, garage area of 1,188 square feet, covered work area of 2,210 square feet, meter repair area of 210 square feet, and a building service area of 2,941 square feet, Sneddon said.

The site will be landscaped, with a blacktopped parking area and a paved pipe storage area.

Increased demands for natural gas made construction of the operating center necessary, Sneddon said, explaining nearly 11,000 customers in five area towns will be served from the center.

Driver Needs Dough

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As a college quarter or semester draws to a close and funds run low, campus newspapers tend to reflect the financial situation of students. Readers of Ohio State University's student paper got a chuckle recently from this end-of-the-quarter for sale ad: "52 FORD — Whole thing or any part."

Kubek Gets Key Hit In Last Of 9th

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Kubek's single to right field scored Hector Lopez with the winning run in the last of the ninth Wednesday as the New York Yankees made it two in a row over the Chicago White Sox 5-4.

Jim Brosnan had taken over for the Sox who tied the score in the top of the ninth on sloppy Yankee defense and wildness by Hal Reniff. With one out, Lopez singled to left. Clete Boyer flied out, but Reniff walked. Kubek then broke up the game with his single.

The Yanks took a 4-3 lead into the ninth when their defense suddenly collapsed. Errors by Boyer and Kubek and an intentional fourth ball to pinch hitter Gary Peters on a 3-0 count loaded the bases.

Reniff, who had replaced Ralph Terry after the error by Boyer, walked Jim Landis, forcing in the tying run. Reniff got out of the inning when Hector Lopez caught Tommy McCraw's fly and doubled Al Weis at the plate.

Joe Pepitone's two-run homer, an inside-the-park job when Landis tripped and fell 10 feet short of the ball, climaxed a three-run Yankee attack on John Buzhardt in the sixth.

Chicago pulled up close in the seventh when Weis beat out a bunt single and Landis hit his ninth homer into the left field stands.

The White Sox scored in the second when Weis doubled after Mike Hershberger singled. Johnny Blanchard in left field got his hands on Weis' drive but couldn't hold it.

Overcome 4-0 Deficit

Braves Score All Markers In Sixth To Stop Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Henry Aaron slammed his 23rd home run to spark a six-run sixth inning uprising for Milwaukee as the Braves overcame San Francisco 6-5 Wednesday.

Three home runs staked Giants' starter Jack Sanford to a 4-0 lead — Willie Mays' 16th in the second inning, Harvey Kuenn's third with one aboard in the third and Willie McCovey's 19th in the fifth.

Sanford carried a two-hitter into the sixth but Lee Maye opened with a double down the right field line. Aaron crashed his home run with one out, Joe Torre singled, Eddie Mathews walked and Gene Oliver singled home Torre.

Dennis Menke greeted reliever Don Larsen with a two-run double off McCovey's glove in the left-field corner, then scored on a wild pitch and Del Crandall's squeeze bunt.

Tom Haller of the Giants nar-

Tebbetts Takes Action

Tribe's Green Suspended

CLEVELAND (AP)—"I thought it was a night game," explained Gene Green, utility outfielder of the Cleveland Indians who was suspended indefinitely after he reported 45 minutes late for practice preceding Wednesday's game with the Boston Red Sox.

Tebbetts told newsmen that Green, used mainly as a pinch-hitter, was suspended because of his "attitude and infraction of rules."

He said Green had reported late several times and "he's broken curfew."

The manager also was angered because Green left the bench and showered after pinch hitting in Tuesday night's game against the Red Sox.

"I've been doing that all season," said Green, "but Birdie told me he wanted me to go and catch in the bullpen after I hit."

"No player is bigger than the team," Tebbetts said in announcing the suspension. "I hate to lose a sound ball player, but I must run a tight ship."

Green, 30, a powerfully built right-handed hitter, said he had no grudge against Tebbetts. "He's the manager and he's got to do what he thinks is right," he said. "I'm lousy, that's all, and I've had a lousy year."

"It all goes back to when I jumped the club. That started it and things have been building up since. I can't hit a lick and when I do hit the ball it goes right at somebody."

Early in May, Green refused to accompany the Indians from Los Angeles to Washington, saying that he would quit baseball if he wasn't traded. He said he wanted a chance to play regularly with some other team.

He rejoined the Indians in Washington two days later and drew a fine.

Green, pitcher Dick Donovan and infielder Jim Mahoney came to the Indians from the Washington Senators in the deal that sent outfielder Jimmy Piersall to the Senators a few days after the end of the 1961 season.

Relief Ace Radatz In Eighth Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Boston Red Sox broke a 2-2 tie with four runs in the ninth inning Wednesday and beat the Cleveland Indians 6-2, giving ace reliever Dick Radatz his eighth victory. Radatz struck out six of the 11 batters he faced.

Chuck Schilling blooped a double to center with one out in the ninth off Bob Allen and scored the tie-breaking run on Gary Geiger's single.

Frank Malzone was walked intentionally after an infield out and Bob Tillman drove a three-run homer off Jerry Walker.

Tillman's blast came after Malzone, caught off first base, made it safely back to the bag after a botched rundown play.

The Indians took a lead in the second when Mike De la Hoz doubled home Max Alvis, made it 2-0 in the fifth when Jerry Kindall walked, took second on a sacrifice and scored on Tito Francona's single.

Women Eye AAU Meet At Dayton Today

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Hundreds of women athletes were registering here Wednesday for the start Thursday night of the AAU women's track and field championships for 1963.

The meet will select members of the U.S. team scheduled for summer competition abroad and progress toward possible membership on the U.S. Olympic team in 1964.

The program opens Thursday night with 220-yard dash and 440-yard trials for the 14-17 age bracket, with other events scheduled to begin Friday afternoon.

Norman Saettel, meet director, said he had accepted 394 entries representing 47 athletic clubs and teams and 30 unattached athletes.

The top two finishers in each of 26 events win places on the American team which does to Poland, Russia, West Germany and England. Eight defending AAU champions will be back for competition.

Fullmer Seeks Postponement Of Bout With Tiger

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer said Wednesday he may ask for another postponement of his fight with champion Dick Tiger in Nigeria, and he indicated the fight might have to be held elsewhere.

Fullmer brought up the possibility of a postponement while being interviewed on his preparations for the fight, now scheduled for July 27 at Ibadan. He said a torn ligament in his right foot is not healing as fast as expected. Marv Jensen, Fullmer's manager, said at Eugene, Ore.: "Gene's foot isn't responding as well as he thought it would. Our time table is about a week away from knowing (about the postponement) right now. We definitely won't know for another week."

The fight was postponed earlier from July 13 to July 27 after the Utah fighter said he hurt his foot during training here. Fullmer also volunteered that it may not be possible to hold the fight in Nigeria at all this summer. He said he understands Nigeria's rainy season starts pretty soon and expressed doubt that the fight could be staged during this period.

Detroit Halts Twins' Win Streak At 8 In 7-5 Final

DETROIT (AP)—Jim Bunning, with home run support from Dick McAuliffe and Norm Cash, stopped the Minnesota Twins' eight-game winning streak Wednesday by pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 7-5 victory.

The defeat dropped the second-place Twins four games behind the New York Yankees in the American League pennant race. Bunning entered the ninth with a four-hitter and had struck out 11. He weakened after the Twins scored two runs and Terry Fox preserved his victory.

The Tiger right-hander had a 7-0 lead before the Twins came back in the final three innings with two homers by Jimmy Hall and a two-run pinch hit homer by Vic Wertz.

The Tigers erupted for three-run rallies in the fourth and fifth innings. McAuliffe connected for the first hit off loser Jim Perry with a leadoff homer in the fourth. Cash followed Rocky Colavito's double with a two-run homer.

Al Kaline singled home one run in the fifth and Colavito's single brought in two more runs.

Hall's homer and Earl Battey's single accounted for the two Twins' runs in the ninth. Minnesota 000 000 122—5 9 0

McKinley Charges To Tennis Finals

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chuck McKinley of St. Louis bounded into the finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships Wednesday along with unseeded Fred Stolle of Australia, sending American hopes of winning the title for the first time since 1955 soaring sky high.

McKinley, the 22-year-old American No. 1, knocked out Wilhelm Burgert of Germany 6-2, 6-4, 8-2, in a semifinal match before 25,000 on a sunny day.

Stolle, 24-year-old Sydney bank clerk, followed by surprising everyone except himself as he whipped Manuel Santana, the No. 2 seed from Spain, 8-6, 6-1, 7-5.

McKinley made the finals for the second time in three years. He lost to Australian Rod Laver, now a pro, in 1961. No American male has won a Wimbledon singles title since Tony Trabert did it in 1955, although Alex Olmedo, a Peruvian who played for the U.S. in Davis Cup tennis, won in 1959.

Stolle is the second unseeded player to reach the final in two straight years. Last year Martin Mulligan of Australia was beaten by Laver.

Stolle and Bob Hewitt, also of Australia, won the doubles in 1962.

McKinley, fourth seeded, has not lost a set in six matches. He started fast against an obviously nervous Burgert—bidding to be the first German in the finals since Gottfried von Cramm in 1937—and was out of command only briefly, in the third set.

Stolle, who at 6-3 stands about half a foot taller than McKinley, packs a powerful serve. He knocked out Frank Froehling, the American No. 2, on his way to the finals, and polished off Santana with a mixture of fine net volleys and clever lobs.

Doubles play occupied the rest of Wednesday's schedule. The team of Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., and Maria Bueno of Brazil made it to the semifinals in the women's doubles, 6-2, 6-1, over Robyn Lesh, Australian, and Jennifer Trewby of Britain.

Burbick's Nip McBurney's In Playoff

Burbick's jumped out to a 4-0 lead then staved off repeated bids by McBurney's to win 4-3, and capture the playoff game for the first half title in the National Division of the Little League Wednesday night.

Berhar was the winning pitcher allowing six hits and fanning 10 batters. Steffen was the loser.

Berhar also was the hitting star with a home run and a double while Logston and Clutter collected two hits each.

Shuck homered for McBurney's and Hancock doubled.

First Outing Success For Cornell Crew

By JOHN GALE
Associated Press Sports Writer
HENLEY, England (AP)—Cornell's lightweight crew scored a big victory Wednesday in its first outing in the Henley Royal Regatta, sparking an American drive to end a long dry spell in the rowing classic.

The light crew from Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., also scored in a heat, and a four-oared crew made up of Cornell substitutes scored a win.

Brothers Joe and Tom Amstrong of Philadelphia, one an Air Force and one an Army lieutenant, scored a win in the pairs.

The only American reverse came when Tabor Academy, Marion, Mass., ran up against the defending light eight, the National Provincial Bank Club of Britain, and was beaten by a little more than two lengths.

Not since 1960, when the Harvard lightweight scored, have American oarsmen won at Henley. Cornell, the eastern sprint champions, took a six length decision in its first outing, against Queen's University, Belfast.

They led from start to finish. Rollins scored by four lengths over Britain's Barclay Bank in its heat.

Six Fastest Trotters In Scioto Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Harness racing's six fastest trotters and its leading driver will be at Scioto Downs here Friday night for the second leg of the Harness Tracks of America series.

The purse, $12,300 is the largest ever at Scioto Downs, and is a step toward the $50,000 HTA final at Yonkers Raceway, N.Y., on Aug. 1. Earning points at each of the races in the series, the top ten will qualify for Yonkers.

Stanley Dancer, the nation's leading money winner for the last two years, will drive Pro Hanover, an 8-1 shot. Dancer won $756,000 last year.

Parched Hong Kong Gets Blessed Rain

HONG KONG (AP)—The rains came: Parched Hong Kong had a blessed 620 million gallons of typhoon water poured on it in the 24 hours ending Wednesday.

But a spokesman for the government of the crown colony warned that it was not enough to end a months-long drought.

Kelso Choice At Suburban, Beau Purple Out Of Race

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Kelso returns to his happy hunting ground, Aqueduct, for another shot at a big pay day Thursday in the $108,500 Suburban Handicap. A victory can boost the 6-year-old gelding into the No. 2 spot among the all time money winners.

Although the decision of Beau Purple's owner and trainer not to enter their handicap star in the Suburban, eliminated the possibility of another head-on duel with Kelso, the race highlights a busy Fourth of July program.

The $50,000 American Handicap, 1 1/4 miles at Hollywood Park will provide the final tune-up for the $162,100 Hollywood Gold Cup July 13 for the likes of Fred Hooper's Admiral's Voyage and 11 others.

On the grass course at Arlington Park, a field of 10 will go in the $30,000 Stars and Stripes at 1 1/4 miles with Carteret, recent winner of the Laurence Armour on the grass, top weighed at 123 pounds.

Kelso, horse of the year for the last three years, has won 12 of 14 starts at Aqueduct, now the site of the Suburban, the second leg in New York's handicap triple.

Ismail Valenzuela will ride Kelso who will carry 133 pounds and probably will be a 1-3 favorite in the seven-horse field.

Cyrano, winner of the Metropolitan, first leg of the triple, will carry 115 pounds including Bobby Ussery in the 1-mile race. The third leg in the Brooklyn Handicap to be run July 20 at Aqueduct.

Kelso won all three in 1961 but did not run in the Metropolitan this year.

Kelso has won $1,236,513. Winning money, if all seven run, will be $70,525. That would boost Kelso into second place, ahead of Nashua with $1,307,038 and second only to Round Table's record high of $1,749,886.

Others in the Suburban are Cyrano, Sunrise Flight, Manassa Mauler, Garwol, Saidam and Royal Record. Beau Purple was not entered because owner Jack Dreyfus and trainer Allen Jenkins were not satisfied with a slow work Monday.

Admiral's Voyage is top weighted at 123 in the American at Hollywood where 12 are entered. Braulio Baeza has flown out to ride the horse. Native Diver will tote 122 pounds. Others are Drill Site, Pirate Cove, Hardware, Full Regalia, Double Dollar, Milla's Turk, Dr. Kacy, Your Alibhai and the entry of Mr. Consistency and Aldershot.

At Chicago Hard Rock Man is counted upon to battle it out with Carteret in the Stars and Stripes, along with Intercepted, Aeropolis and Prego. Others are Bounding Main, Wa-Wa Cy, Moderado, The Lemon and Galardon.

Prisoners May Learn To Read Using Colors
SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Many San Quentin prisoners may learn to read by use of colors.

Charles Rhinehart, Sonoma State College teacher, and Stanford University professors developed a system using colors to represent vowel sounds.

Rhinehart said the system enabled a nonreader to identify a sound with a color and the confusion of several sounds for the same letter was avoided.

Its Fourth Turnpike
LOUISVILLE (AP)—Kentucky has been in the turnpike business less than a decade but is preparing to build its fourth toll road. It would run the state's investment to more than $250 million in pay-as-you-ride highways.

Now She Knows

MIAMI (AP) — Things have gone bi-lingual in Miami in a big way since all the Cuban exiles arrived. But Lillian Spring thinks it may have been overdone. She parked under a sign printed in Spanish, which she couldn't read. Later, after receiving a ticket, she learned the sign said "No Parking."

MEETS 'MR. ZIP.' Vern W. Jones, assistant secretary-treasurer of the National Church Supply Co., is reminded by Chester Postmaster Robert Edwards to affix Zip Code 28034 to his company's thousands of letters mailed at the Chester Post Office. Edwards displays a colored decal illustrating "Mr. Zip," symbol of Uncle Sam's new system designed to speed mail deliveries and reduce misdirected mail. The Zone Improvement Program went into effect Monday. National Church is the biggest customer of the Post Office Department in the area.

Mixed Reaction From Senators

Kennedy Seen Unlikely To Send Aide To Vatican

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appears likely to quietly ignore a hint that he send a representative to the Vatican.

An indication in a Vatican newspaper editorial that the Roman Catholic Church would like to have a U.S. representative at its headquarters has brought mixed reaction from senators.

There has been no American among the international representatives at the Vatican for 13 years. In 1950 President Harry S. Truman proposed sending Gen. Mark W. Clark, an Episcopalian. That was such an outcry that he dropped the idea.

Most members of Congress seem to feel that Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, will stick by his 1960 campaign declaration that he was "flatly opposed to appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican."

Although President Franklin D. Roosevelt set a precedent in appointing Myron Taylor as his representative to the Vatican, few think Kennedy will follow it. Roosevelt named Taylor as his spokesman, but gave him no diplomatic appointment that would have required Senate confirmation.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., commented crisply: "If we can't have prayer in the schools I don't see any sense in sending a representative to deal with the Pope."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., a Roman Catholic, saw "no special reason why the President should send a representative to the Vatican."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Have you any suggestions for making draperies or curtains hang in any position or fold I wish?

A. Solid solder, in the form of wire, can be cut to the proper length and inserted into the bottom hems of your draperies or curtains. Since this soft solder wire bends and can be easily molded, it will hold your draperies or curtains in whatever fold or position you think looks best.

Q. How can I remove water stains from some of my furniture?

A. With hot vinegar. Rub over the spots, dry, then polish with furniture polish or linseed oil. To remove water spots from varnished furniture, use ammonia water, followed by furniture polish.

Q. What can I do about ink stains on my rugs?

A. As soon as possible after the ink has been spilled on your rug, pour some fresh milk on the spots, then mop it up. Cover the spots with cornstarch for a few minutes, run the vacuum cleaner over it, and wash the spots with mild soap and water.

Q. How can I prevent freshly-sliced apples from turning brown?

A. By placing in a bowl of cold water immediately after paring. They can be kept this way for some time, until ready for use, by just changing the water once or twice.

Q. How can I clean the debris out of a drainpipe that goes across and under my driveway with both ends open?

A. Cut out a semi-circular block of wood having a diameter slightly less than the inside of your drain pipe, and secure this to the end of a long pole. Then all you have to do is start at one end of your drain pipe, pushing the leaves and gravel completely through, and then gathering up the debris at the other end.

2 Men Unexpectedly Get Floating Hatchery

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — Merlin Gagle and Gurvey Madon unexpectedly wound up with a floating duck hatchery on their hands.

Returning from a fishing trip, they found a mallard sitting on five duck eggs under a seat in their boat. Politely, the owners left the craft to Mrs. Duck to hatch her brood.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Independence Day History Reviewed

Wonderful if, in every family of children old enough to understand, the following from the Declaration of Independence were read aloud: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness."

ALSO THE following written by Washington Irving makes good reading for all of us today: "While danger was gathering around New York, and its inhabitants were in mute suspense and fearful anticipations, the General Congress at Philadelphia was discussing, with closed doors, what John Adams pronounced 'the greatest question ever debated in America, and as great as ever was or will be debated among men.' The result was a resolution passed unanimously on the 2nd of July, 'that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States.' 'The glorious event has indeed given rise to an annual jubilee; but not on the day designated by Adams. The Fourth of July is the day of national rejoicing, for on that day the Declaration of Independence, that solemn and sublime document, was adopted.

"TRADITION GIVES a dramatic effect to its announcement. It was known to be under discussion, but the closed doors of Congress excluded the populace. They awaited, in throngs, an appointed signal. In the steeple of the State House was a bell, imported two-ty - three years previously from London by the Provincial Assembly of Pennsylvania. It bore the portentous text from the Scripture: 'Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof.' A joyous peal from that bell gave notice that the bill had been passed."

Trucking Firm's Owner Talks To Wellsville Group

Charles Shaffer, owner of the Shaffer Trucking Co. on Clark Ave., reviewed his business and how he got started in a talk before the Wellsville Kiwanis Club at its meeting Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

Shaffer said he had two trucks and two men, including himself, when he first started hauling from Wellsville. He was hauling brick for the H. K. Porter Co.

Shaffer said he now employs 21 to 22 men and has a weekly payroll of $2,300. He hauls for H. K. Porter as well as Sulphur Terminals, Inc.

He said he pays annual license fees of $26,000. Some of this, plus gasoline taxes, returns to the city, he said.

Seventeen attended. George Wilson, first vice president, presided in the absence of Cedric Stanway, president, who is attending the International Kiwanis convention at Atlantic City, N. J. The Board of Directors will meet Friday noon at Meade's Restaurant.

Students Get Break; No Midweek Classes

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Transylvania College students will have a midweek holiday beginning with the 1964 fall term.

No classes will be held on Wednesdays, a day set aside for faculty meetings and student counseling.

President Irvin Lunger said this would result from a change in the academic program under which the average student would carry four 4-hour courses instead of three 5-hour courses each quarter. Students thus could work off all required courses their first two years.

Kennedy Hand 'Better' In Dealing With French

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's just-completed European tour may have improved his hand in dealing with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Kennedy returned to Washington early Wednesday after 11 days and 13,000 miles of travel in Germany, Ireland, England and Italy.

One of his first chores back home was to brief the Cabinet on the trip and hear from Cabinet secretaries a review of events during his absence, particularly in the civil rights field.

Kennedy's trek through Western Europe was his longest overseas journey as President and it hit a high point during the first three days—in Germany and Communist-encircled Berlin.

It was largely because of the President's success in winning neighbors. In even broader terms, politicians throughout Western Europe can hardly ignore the impact of Kennedy's repeated appearances on home television screens repeatedly preaching the doctrine of Atlantic solidarity and cooperation.

Furthermore, Soviet Premier Khrushchev could only have been dismayed by the evidence of strengthened American - German unity.

According to American sources, the German response to policy proposals pushed by Kennedy—including the idea of creating a multilateral nuclear force in the West—was more enthusiastic than anticipated.

All things considered, Kennedy came home convinced that the trip was worthwhile despite claims by some that it was a mistake to visit major nations where governments admittedly are in a state of flux.

However, some who are close to Kennedy still believe his impact at home and abroad would have been greater had he flown back to Washington after his big receptions in Germany and Ireland.

The overnight stay in England produced few if any tangible results from Kennedy's viewpoint. And two days in Italy proved to be anticlimactic following the President's earlier welcomes.

Probe Requested By Racial Group In Dayton Case

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Dayton chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality announced Wednesday it had sent telegrams to President Kennedy and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, asking an investigation of what the chapter called discriminatory hiring practices at the National Cash Register Co. plant here.

W. S. McIntosh, executive secretary of the Dayton chapter, said the telegrams asked that the government void federal computer contracts with the firm because of practices in hiring of Negroes and others of minority groups.

The local chapter declared NCR employs about 15,000 people, less than 300 of whom are Negroes, and that 98 per cent of the Negroes who are employed by the company work in the foundry only.

Chester Girl Injured As She Runs Into Car

An 8-year-old Chester girl, racing home in a sudden thunderstorm Tuesday night, suffered a leg injury when she ran into the side of a moving auto on Indiana Ave.

Virginia Bell Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Thayer, 237 Indiana Ave., was treated for bruises of the left leg received when she struck the side of an auto operated by Mrs. Ruth Shilling of 6th St. Ext.

Police Chief Clarence Lennens said the girl, who had been at the playground near the Central School, was headed home in the rain when she ran into the street and against the auto, which was traveling about 20 miles an hour. He said she was neither knocked down nor run over by the car.

Letter Late-Rhodes Had Signed It

AFL-CIO Official Sought Veto On Jobless Aid Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO has asked Gov. James A. Rhodes to veto the unemployment compensation bill approved by the General Assembly.

Elmer F. Cope sent the Republican governor a letter stating his case. In it, the labor official also called for a veto of the workmen's compensation bill also passed by the legislature last week.

But by the time the letter reached Rhodes Tuesday afternoon, according to the governor's office, the chief executive already had signed the Workmen's Compensation Act into law.

A spokesman for the Ohio AFL-CIO commented, "We regret the governor signed the bill so quickly after passage by the legislature, and that he apparently didn't consider our side of the case."

In his letter, accompanied by what he called detailed analyses of both bills, Cope also asked that the governor call a special session of the legislature to deal with the question of adequate financing of unemployment compensation.

Cope said the two measures "discriminate against the injured and unemployed worker" and will "mean less compensation for such workers and their families when injury and joblessness strikes."

One bill (Amended Substitute House Bill 222) will mean $16 million a year less in compensation to the unemployed, Cope wrote.

He contended that the measure "fails to accomplish what its supporters claim it will do, namely, rebuild the unemployment compensation fund to a sound level."

The union officials said the plan "will not rebuild the fund quickly enough and it takes a calculated gamble against any unusual increase in unemployment."

He claimed the unemployment compensation bill will produce a "surplus" of only $31 million a year over what is paid from the fund and this is based on the hope that there will be no increase in unemployment. It will take about 12 years to rebuild the fund to a minimum safe level of $450 million, Cope said.

The workmen's compensation (Amended Substitute Senate Bill 131), Cope continued, contains many "restrictions that will mean less compensation for the worker injured on the job." He said the measure "turns the clock back in the field of workmen's compensation."

The unemployment compensation measure stiffens the qualifications for benefits and also raises employers' contributions to the fund, now at a level of some $100 million.

The workmen's compensation laws were revised in the Senate bill and temporary disability benefits for the first 12 weeks were raised from $40 to $56 weekly. Union leaders felt the increase was inadequate.

Rhodes Urges Industry Tax Be Kept At Present Level

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A program to keep state industrial taxes at the present level for the next 15 to 20 years was suggested Wednesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The governor said Ohio cannot continue to levy taxes on industry and remain competitive with other states. "We would like to see a program worked out between the administration and legislature so that no additional taxes would be levied on industry in the next 15 to 20 years," he told newsmen.

The governor and his cabinet were in Canton Wednesday to meet local officials and business and industrial leaders as part of advancing his industrial development program.

Speaking of a proposed $250 million bond issue which goes on the November ballot, the governor said "we expect it to pass because there is $175 million in it for higher education with no additional taxes on the people of Ohio." Other portions of the issue would go for public schools and for increased recreation and water conservation facilities.

Rhodes also said that through the newly-created board of regents "we will establish technical institutions in Ohio and grow up and gear up for industrial development."

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Last Of The Milquetoasts

The hero in a movie script being produced by Warner Bros. is described by the author as "a title guy beaten down by the world."

Natural, Don Knotts was asked to play the title role in the picture, "The Incredible Mr. Limpet," and luckily he was able to break away from his Hal Humphrey deputy sheriff character in Andy Griffith's TV show long enough to do it.

Since Wally Cox has turned himself into a brazen huckster of letergent on TV commercials, here is no question now that Don Knotts is undisputed title-holder in the Caspar Milquetoast league.

Strangers walk up to Don and grab his hand to shake it. They generally mumble something about his Barney Fife role in the TV series, but the warmth of the handshake is like saying to him: "Stay in there, boy, we're with you."

Don's look of inability to cope with this wacky world generates more sympathy than a sobbing 3-year-old lost in a department store. You know that the 3-year-old will eventually be saved by the store detective, but Don always seems to be standing alone against all the world's adversity.

Even the hams in this business didn't seem to resent Don's picking up his third Emmy award this year. Those nominate with Don for best supporting role would have had more chance competing with Lassie.

When he went up to accept his third Emmy, Don's fellow workers cheered as if it were the first time he'd won anything. Did Don himself feel embarrassed?

"No, I wasn't embarrassed," he says, candidly. "After you've won two Emmys, anything can happen. I figured—and this time it did."

After three seasons of playing Andy Griffith's faithful deputy, Don still is besieged by a group of "in" fans who preferred the nervous man-on-the-street comedy he did when on the old Steve Allen show. To these fans, Barney Fife is a square.

"I had four years of the Allen show, and I would never do 'live' TV again," says Don. "I was exhausted after 11 straight hours of rehearsal, and then we still had the show to do."

Those nervous gulps which used to fracture his fans probably weren't all acting. Don admits he had a chronic energy problem while with Allen. He tried various things to charge him up from candy bars to soft drinks (the latter was Allen's own prescription when he felt his strength flagging), but Don was just plain exhausted by show time each week.

"We try to slip in some hip stuff on the Griffith show, and I think we've managed to appeal to a minority group as well as the majority," Don says. "Hardly anybody seems to care about the minority when it comes to TV."

The elimination of the Steve Allen show from network TV attests to Don's latter statement. Madison Ave. and the networks have decided that no one appreciates smart, hip comedy except them and a handful of viewers who don't buy advertised products anyway.

HOW HIP DON can get as a deputy in a bucolic village like Andy Griffith's Mayberry is questionable, but the fact that he is aware of the need for sharper comedy is commendable.

Buster Keaton managed to double-edge much of his comedy so that both the masses and connoisseurs of satire were able to dig him, and Don's comedy methods are not unlike Keaton's.

With the exception of Red Skelton and Lucille Ball, the king and queen of the pantomimists working the TV slapstick comedy vein today, Don is the one regular who can milk a laugh from an audience by just looking at it.

If you want to know, incidentally, how he got his current job, Don called up Andy Griffith after seeing the pilot film and said he thought Andy needed a deputy with a funny face.

Three Escapees Are Extradited

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Three men who escaped from a Michigan penitentiary April 23 were extradited to Michigan Wednesday by a four-man detail from the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

The three are Elmer Crachy, 35, Robert Lee Gipson, 30, and Richard E. Mauch, 40. They were among four men who engineered a daring escape from the Michigan penitentiary.

A fourth man, James J. Hall, was captured in Missouri.

The three were serving terms ranging from 13 years to life—Crachy for being a habitual criminal, Mauch for attempted murder and Gipson for murder.

Mauch, from Lima, Ohio, and Gipson were captured by Madison police May 24 and Crachy was arrested by Dane County sheriff's deputies the following day near Madison.

Hubby Was Big Help

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Ellen Chester telephoned her husband when she and their son, Danny, got locked in a downtown building, but he thought she was kidding. A doctor leaving his office finally freed mother and son.

Man's Greatest Need Seen 'Faith In God'

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — William A. Fagal, a New York city television pastor, told a session of the Ohio Conference of Seventh-day Adventists here Wednesday that "man's greatest need is not for billions of dollars for a manned space vehicle to the moon, but simple outlay of implicit faith in God."

Speaking at the centennial anniversary session of the conference, he said: "The power of implicit faith in God is far more fantastic than the rockets needed to land astronauts on the moon. Here is a power that enables man to widen his potentials far beyond our pre-conceived limits."

Pleas Court Grants Stay Of Execution

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The second district court of appeals has granted an indefinite stay of execution in the case of James Mike Gilkerson, 41, now in death row at Ohio Penitentiary.

The stay was granted Wednesday pending final hearing of Gilkerson's appeal. He was sentenced to death in the slaying of his wife, Treva, and was admitted to the penitentiary last Jan. 28.

Motorist Gets Jail Sentence

A city motorist accused of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor was fined and jailed at a hearing Wednesday in Municipal Court before Judge Sammie M. Chertoff.

Alph W. Wooley, 36, of 1048 Waterloo St. entered a plea of guilty and was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail. His license was suspended for 90 days.

Wooley was granted a continuance Monday when he asked time to consult an attorney. His bond was fixed at $500 and the hearing rescheduled for July 11. He changed his mind and asked to be sentenced yesterday. Wooley was cited Monday on E. 5th St., police said.

Larry Cochran, 2112 E. Martin St., East Palestine, was given a 30-day suspension of his license for speeding and ordered to pay the court costs. He also was charged with driving without an operator's permit. He was ordered to pay court costs. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

Charles Edward Harris of Lisbon St. was fined $10 and costs for permitting an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle. He pleaded guilty. Harris was cited by the State Highway Patrol on Route 170.

Ernest Kelly, 1236 Harker Ave., was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding on Harvey Ave. His case was continued Tuesday and he was placed in jail in lieu of bond. Kelly also was cited for driving without an operator's permit. He was given a 10-day suspended sentence in County Jail on condition he pay the court costs. He produced his license.

Illinois Girl Finds 'Her Book' Out West

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — A recent visitor from Illinois, browsing in a local book store, was surprised to come across a book dedicated to her.

Miss Deborah Graves, 15, of Robinson, Ill., was looking through a bin of books priced at 25 cents each when she spotted "Captain Adam" by Donald Barr Chidsey.

The book, which was written in 1953, carried this dedication: "To a different Deborah, daughter of Dean and Virginia Graves, is dedicated this little lesson in how-to-get-your-man."

Their Salad Days

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The four members of Greenville's Veterans of Foreign Wars color guard can wear their World War II uniforms in parades again. But it took some doing. To get into their uniforms, Bob Slonaker, Paul Niley, Curley Faehl and Lowell Martin lived on green salads and calorie-reduced diets for several weeks.

By Espionage Difficulties

British Claim Security Ties With U.S. Not Hurt

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — The British government Wednesday night claimed that security cooperation with the United States has remained unaffected by Britain's espionage difficulties.

Informed officials at the same time indicated at least one aspect of British-American cooperation in the field of spy hunting was discussed when President Kennedy was Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's guest here last week-end.

This apparently denoted active U.S. concern in the problem. It also was reported that a tip-off by British counterespionage men helped Swedish authorities track down and arrest Swedish Col. Stig Erik Wennerstrom who has been accused in Stockholm of spying for the Russians for years. Part of that time, Wennerstrom was serving in Washington.

These developments emerged while a parliamentary storm built up over the unmasking of Harold

"Kim" Philby, vanished British ex-diplomat who is suspected of having served both British and Soviet intelligence systems as a double agent.

In the House of Commons, Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft told an opposition Laborite the Americans have neither asked nor been given assurances that Britain's security setup will be improved.

Informants said the Philby case came up during the Kennedy-Macmillan meeting. Evidently, Kennedy was advised of something Washington already knew — that Philby was believed behind the Iron Curtain—and that the information would be made public at once. It was announced the day after the President left.

Philby was said to have confessed to working as a wartime Soviet agent and to warning renegade diplomats Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess they were about to be arrested.

In Moscow, Burgess denied this.

In Cuyahoga Recorder Office

Grand Jury Due Evidence In Payroll 'Irregularities'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Evidence concerning alleged payroll irregularities in the office of Cuyahoga County Recorder Frank S. Day will be presented to the grand jury next week, Prosecutor, John T. Corrigan said Wednesday.

The prosecutor said the case involves only Day and a deputy, Michael Kascak, who is on the recorder's payroll at $5,150 a year but allegedly spent much of his time around Day's home in suburban Parma Heights.

The recorder, a Democrat, has been under attack from County Auditor Ralph Perk, a Republican, who has had a handwriting expert checking signatures on Day's payroll. Tuesday Perk held up the checks of 18 employees in the recorder's office after the handwriting expert, Joseph Tholl, found 18 signatures that appeared to have been written by the same hand.

The auditor later handed out checks to 12 of Day's employees who came to his office and identified themselves.

The prosecutor said he found no evidence of criminal forgery in day's payroll. The signature of one employee appeared on the payroll six days after he died on June 9, but the prosecutor indicated this was not considered irregular. He said under Ohio law the estate of an employee who dies is entitled to a paycheck covering vacation time due the employee.

Corrigan said that from information furnished by Day's neighbors and other sources he learned that Kascak has been spending much of his time at Day's home since September 1961. Kascak did

Cardinal Cushing Planning Mission

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, back from the coronation of Pope Paul VI in Rome, said Wednesday he is planning a trip to South America to survey the work of a hundred missionaries.

The prelate, now nearly 68, said his first concern is a couple of days of complete rest and added that the words "secret mission," which cropped up in an interview Tuesday night, did not exactly describe the nature of his forthcoming trip.

He said that when an administrator engages in a survey of the work of a large number of men, he cannot say in advance exactly what he will do.

"But why I am going is no secret," he added.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, July 4, the 185th day of 1963. There are 180 days left in the year. Today is Independence Day.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1776, the Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia, formally adopted the Declaration of Independence. As one of human history's most far-reaching documents, the declaration abolished the 13 American colonies of all allegiance to England.

On this date In 1902, The U.S. Military Academy was opened at West Point, N.Y.

In 1826, the second and third U.S. presidents — John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, respectively — died on the same day.

In 1864, Frederick Bartholdi's creation, the Statue of Liberty, was formally presented to the United States by France.

In 1946, the Republic of the Philippines became an independent nation.

In 1960, the new U.S. flag, carrying 50 stars, was raised officially on the staff at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Ten years ago ... Veteran Communist Imre Nagy became the new premier of Hungary.

Five years ago ... Former President Herbert Hoover warned that danger signals portending new isolation in the United States.

One year ago ... President Kennedy declared in an Independence Day address from Philadelphia that the United States would regard a strong and united Europe as a partner and not a rival.

Opportunity Rained

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP) — A recent flood was disastrous to many residents along the Big Sandy River but to four enterprising men it was a glorious business opportunity. They soon ran into a backlog of orders after establishing a house-raising service. They raise the houses on jacks and put in higher foundations, out of the water's reach.

Junior Editors Quiz on ARABS

QUESTION: Are the Arab tribes like our American Indians? Do they have their own country?

ANSWER: Much of the country of the Arabs is desert, where many live a nomadic, or wandering life, traveling by camels, sleeping in tents, moving with herds of goats and sheep in search of pasture and water. This kind of existence has tended to keep them in tribes, each with a leader called a "sheik". Their history is a much more civilized one than the American Indian, however.

It is known that 1,000 years before Christ there were great civilizations in the Arabian Peninsula. Originally, an Arab meant one of the wandering desert people. But even before the time of Christ, some of these had pushed north and discovered more fertile land where great cities developed. During the 600's and 700's A. D. the Arabs conquered the Middle East and north-west Africa. After 605 A. D. the religion of Islam helped unite the Arab peoples. But the Turks conquered them about 1000.

After World War I, Arab countries regained their independence. Attempts were made to unify Arabians by founding the Arab League; but Saudi Arabia, with a royalist regime, has remained at odds with the United Arab Republic, led by President Nasser of Egypt.

FOR YOU TO DO: Will the Arabs unite in one great nation as Mohammed had hoped, or will Saudi Arabia or Egypt come to dominate? These are important world questions. Watch your newspaper to see what is happening in the fascinating lands of the mysterious Middle East.

Danny Hurlburt of Riley, Kan., wins the daily prize of a 20-volume World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Route 213 Crash Hurts 3 Slightly

Three were injured slightly in a two-car crash on Route 213 near Hammondsville Tuesday afternoon at 3:15, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Officers said the auto of John Miller, 26, of Irondale was stopped on the highway and was hit in the rear by another car driven by Louise Martin, 41, of Hammondsville R. D. 1.

Miller suffered a possible back injury and a passenger of his car, Jack Miller, 13, of Irondale suffered a laceration of the lower lip. Ray Martin, 16, of Hammondsville, a passenger in the Martin car, suffered a bump on the forehead.

Miller was arrested for parking on the highway and the woman was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Considerable damage resulted to both cars.

When measuring sifted confectioners sugar, spoon the sugar into the measuring cup and level off with a spatula or straight-edge knife.
